Historical Notes: A food and energy self-sufficient retirement community near Berea, KY that was to be funded by retirees and built and maintained by a cooperative structure of younger participants. The design and calculations of the unique out-of-season annual cycle energy system were funded with a grant from the Kentucky Department of Energy. Many of the energy and participatory aspects of more recent urban studies by the CSC Design Studio were pioneered in the New Hope project. Berea College is a liberal arts work college in Berea, south of Lexington, in the U.S. state of Kentucky, founded in 1855. Berea College is distinctive among post-secondary institutions for providing free education to students and for having been the first college in the Southern United States to be coeducational and racially integrated. Berea College charges no tuition; every admitted student is provided the equivalent of a four-year, full-tuition scholarship (currently worth $83,600; $20,900 per year). Sources: New Hope, Berea
