Abstract: This collection consists of newsletters, conferences, brochures, and other items from the College of Nursing and Health Professions at the University of Southern Indiana in Evansville, Indiana from 1971 to 2020.

Historical Notes:

- The College of Nursing and Health Professions offers 12 academic programs in Dental Assisting, Dental Hygiene, Diagnostic Medical Sonography, Food and Nutrition, Health Informatics and Information Management, Health Services, Health Administration, Nursing (Bachelor of Science in Nursing, RN to BSN Completion, Master of Science in Nursing and Doctor of Nursing Practice), Occupational Therapy Assistant, Occupational Therapy, Radiologic and Imaging Sciences and Respiratory Therapy. In addition, the College's Center for Health Professions Lifelong Learning provides accredited professional development opportunities for health professionals through certificate programs, continuing education conferences and workshops. Each year, over 1,300 health care professionals complete online certificate programs, representing every U.S. state and territory, Canada, Singapore, United Arab Emirates, and other countries, and more than 2,100 attend continuing education programs on the USI campus. We are dedicated to providing quality programming to assist the busy health professional in enhancing knowledge, skills and professional competencies. USI.edu: College of Nursing and Health Professions, About the College
- In 1972, the Indiana University School of Medicine selected Indiana State University-Evansville to be their newest location. The IU School of Medicine was shared the University of Evansville and the University of Southern Indiana. In 1995, they moved into the Nursing and Health Professions building on the third floor. In 2018, the IU School of Medicine moved to downtown Evansville, in partnership with the University of Evansville and Indiana University, into the Stone Family Center for Health Sciences.
