

Collection Summary

ID Number: UA 058

Title: Historic New Harmony Collection

Extent: 10 Boxes

Span Dates: 1900's – 2010's

Language: English, Spanish

Geographic Location: Indiana

Abstract: This collection consists of memos, brochures, clippings, and other items from Historic New Harmony at the University of Southern Indiana in Evansville, Indiana from 1909 to 2019.

Historical Notes: Historic New Harmony is a unified program of the University of Southern Indiana and the Indiana State Museum and Historic Sites. By preserving its utopian legacy, Historic New Harmony inspires innovation and progressive thought through its programs and collections. In 1985, the University of Southern Indiana assumed management of Historic New Harmony, encouraging cultural and educational programs, while maintaining historic properties. Within the USI Foundation, the Historic New Harmony Advisory Board supports the mission of Historic New Harmony. Today, as a unified program of the University of Southern Indiana and the Indiana State Museum and Historic Sites, Historic New Harmony realizes its mission of preserving New Harmony's utopian legacy by inspiring innovation and progressive thought through its programs and collections. This work expands the original intent of the university's involvement in New Harmony, which was to nurture this living laboratory for ideas - a place where students and teachers, tourists and scholars, leaders, and seekers, can come together to experience, explore, and create. Historic New Harmony is under the guidance of Outreach and Engagement. USI.edu: Historic New Harmony
