

Collection Summary

ID Number: UA 028

Title: Pott College of Science, Engineering, and Education Collection

Extent: 5 Boxes

Span Dates: 1960's – 2010's

Language: English

Geographic Location: Indiana

Abstract: This collection consists of newsletters, pamphlets, minutes, and other items from the Pott College of Science, Engineering, and Education at the University of Southern Indiana in Evansville, Indiana from 1969 to 2019.

Historical Notes:

- The Division of Education and Human Services was established with the campus in 1965. In 1989, the Division was renamed the School of Education and Human Services. In 2001, it was named the Bower-Suhrheinrich College of Education. Pott College of Science, Engineering, and Education is named in honor of Robert H. Pott. Through the gifts of the Pott Foundation, he and his wife, Elaine, fostered scientific inquiry, discovery, and engagement. In 1998, the Pott Foundation contributed $2 million towards the development of the College of Science, Engineering, and Education. [USI.edu: Pott College of Science, Engineering, and Education](http://USI.edu: Pott College of Science, Engineering, and Education)
- The Center has existed since 1974 and with the assistance of Betty Rice; the center was moved from St. Mark's Church to campus. In 2004, the Center moved to its present location on the north end of campus behind the Health Professional building. In January 2009, the Children's Center changed its name to the Children's Learning Center to further emphasize their dedication to teaching and learning. In June 2020, Dr. Rochon announced the closure of the Children's Learning Center due to low enrollment.
- The engineering program has five Bachelor of Science and one Master of Science in Industrial Management degrees. They focus on civil engineering, electrical and computer engineering, industrial and manufacturing engineering, mechanical engineering, mechatronic, advanced manufacturing, industrial supervision, and industrial management. The engineering department is a part of Pott College of Science, Engineering, and Education; however, they are housed in the Business and Engineering Building.
