

UNITED STATES ARMY

Weds. Night

Dear June,

I saw a Servo Vault paper today and found out that Bosse won. Boy, I sure would have liked to see that and how the city reacted.

I imagine Central is burnt up as they have never won. From what I hear they will be right back in there next year.

Well I spent my last weekend in Montgomery and really had a last fling. I met Bob and ~~the~~ together with some of my friends here at camp and really had a time. It was true soldier style with I gts of wiskey for ten men. So you can imagine what a time we had.

I also got rid of $20 but it was the first time I had spent any money for quite a while and more than likely the last time for even longer. So I didn't mind much.

While I am overseas I am going to increase my $25 bond to a $50 one a month so I should have a nice little ~~bank~~ wad to come back to.

I pulled a good one last night. Came in at 5:30 as I didn't have to stand retreat and thought I would lay down in my tris off and rest before chow. Well I had all my cloths on, including my shoes, and fell asleep. I woke up at 5:30 this morning wondering what the hell happened. It was like some body had hit me over the head 12 hours ago and I passed out. I hadn't had such a good rest in quite some time and tonight I don't feel like going to bed.

Things around here are pretty dull as there isn't much to do but just wait. I still have no idea as to our departure but that makes it more thrilling that way.

Had a letter from John Burns today who is over in England. Wouldn't I like to be in his shoes. If I thought I would go these very worries would be over.

By the way, what do you hear from Bob? I guess by this time he has had his share of K.P., guard duty, latrine duty and the like.
The latrine detail is the hardest one on morale, as it were.

That's one nice thing about the army though, it qualifies a man for most any kind of a job. So after the war, what if things are a little rough, you can always fall back on one of these jobs, and use the old survival, latrines etc, for a good reference.

I wrote Emmy the other day and told her that it was kind a silly for us to continue writing

UNITED STATES ARMY

as it will be awhile before I can get back and probably find her married to some 4 F. (which, by the way, I wish I was one of.)

So I doubt if I will hear from her again. If you know any good prospects, you might give them my address and inform them of what they have missed all their life.

I guess I should draw this little session to a close and take in a movie, since I can't sleep to night. After all to much sleep at night hurts my day sleeping which I can't afford to do.

I have an hour and a half in the air now, the first thing you know I will be a regular pilot. I can see now where I should have been as that is really fun.

Write son and give Morg. my regards. Tell him
I am glad a D. I dentist didn't pull his wisdom teeth as you know why.

Love
Dwen
