Donor Recognition Program at $120,000 Construction of University Center Continues

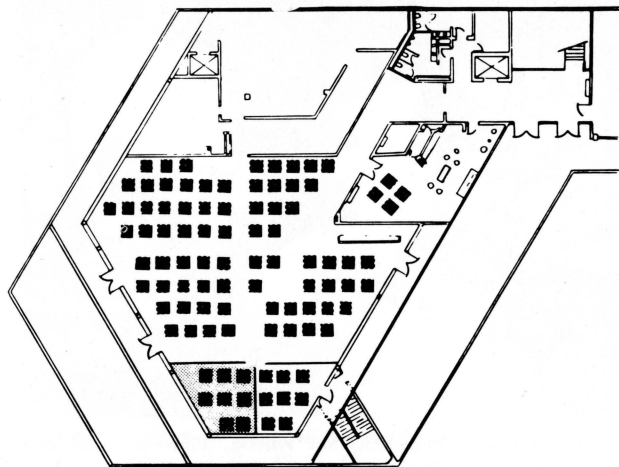

The Donor Recognition Program, which was initiated by the Evansville Campus Foundation to equip the new University Center and duly recognize the benefactors, has raised over $120,000.00 to date. Fifty individuals, families and companies have participated in the Donor Recognition Program with most of the rooms now being furnished. Opportunities to participate in the Donor Recognition Program still remain open, however, and interested families or individuals are welcome to contact the ISUE Foundation Office for further details.

A gala opening of the new building is planned for spring. Donor Recognition Program participants will be invited to the opening to see their individual rooms and celebrate the opening of this much needed campus building.

Construction of the University Center has reached the upper level of the tri-level building and work on the connecting structure to the Library, the Continuing Education Wing, continues.

The Continuing Education Wing will provide multi-purpose rooms for continuing education instruction by way of the state-wide educational television network, IHETS; conference rooms; and a place for formal receptions and teas. The space will be developed so that it can be opened into one large room or divided by folding doors into four multi-purpose rooms.

The University Center, designed as a focal point on campus, will provide space for student organization work areas; conference rooms; lounge facilities, a grill area, a recreation area, a formal dining area, and the University Bookstore.

The Alumni Room (portion shaded) is directly off the dining area. The room will have a beautiful view of the natural areas of the campus.

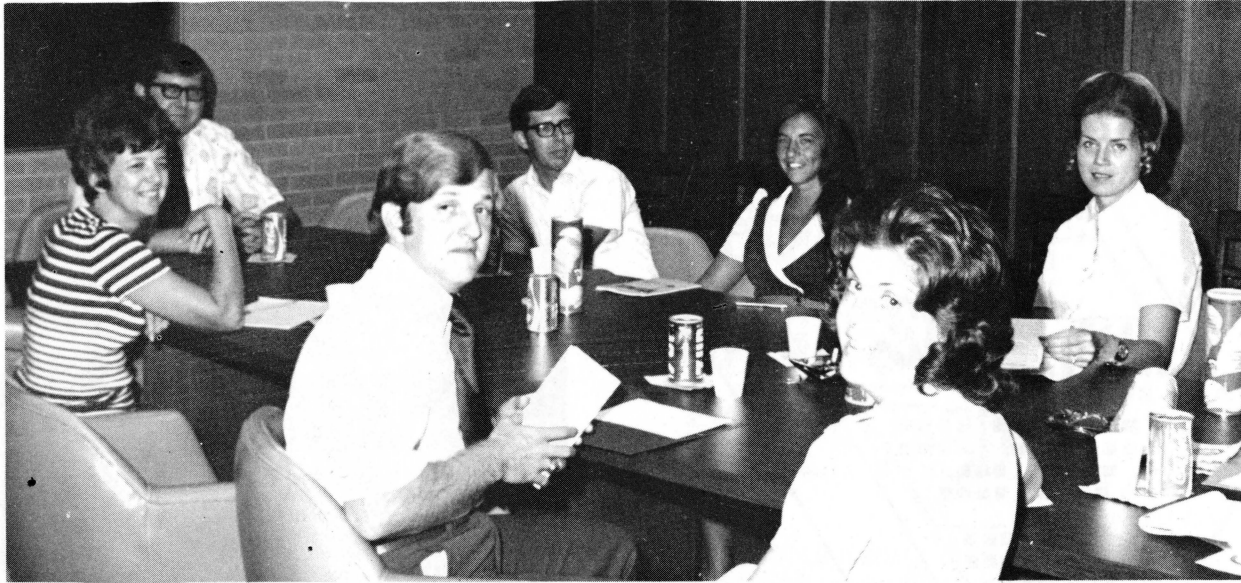

ALUMNI ROOM

The ISUE Alumni Association accepted the challenge to participate in the Donor Recognition Program of the ISUE Foundation with a pledge of $3,000. The funds will be used to furnish an Alumni Room in the Presidents Suite on the second level of the University Center. The larger Presidents Suite is divided into two rooms, one of which will be the Alumni Room and the other the Presidents Room. Each room can accommodate 30 persons. The entire area of the Presidents Suite can be opened when larger facilities are needed to accommodate an event.

The Alumni Room, as well as the total University Center, will be furnished in modern decor. The Alumni Room will have natural wood tables and polished chrome tubular steel sling chairs. The carpet will be brown. Oak beams will be featured in the ceiling.

ISUE Alumni Association President Jean Rickard gives ISUE President David Rice the initial payment of a $3,000.00 pledge of the Alumni Association. The gift will furnish the Alumni Room in the University Center.

Alumni officers and members of the Executive Council gather for a work session to plan activities and goals of the Alumni Association. Persons serving the Alumni Association are Executive Council members (clockwise) William Burgdorf; Dennis Orsburn; Karen Jaquess; Melinda Davidson, Secretary;

Jean Rickard, President; Pat Hinkle, Vice-President; and Joyce Crabtree, Treasurer. Executive Council members Steve Collins, Sharon Wright Johnson and Gayle Burch were not present for the photograph.

DUFFIE BARTON RETIRES

John
Barton

On October 12, 1973 a familiar face left Indiana State University Evansville for some well-earned years of retirement. Mrs. John (Duffie) Barton served ISUE from October 1, 1967 to October 12, 1973 in a variety of positions. In addition to serving as secretary to President Rice, Mrs. Barton served as Administrative Assistant for Student Services, where she provided a housing service for faculty and students, served as secretary to the Faculty Council, aided with clerical responsibilities, and greeted visitors at the ISUE information window. Duffie has been an active member of the Westwood Garden Club, the West Side Welcome Wagon, the United Fund, and several other organizations.

In addition to the talents that are familiar to us here at ISUE, Duffie was also an accomplished writer and artist. Her work included a book of poems that she wrote and illustrated. Persons who have visited her in her home have had the opportunity to see some of her art displayed there. Her professional life encompassed many years in banking, advertising, and university-related activities. Always active in social and community organizations, Duffie and her husband, John, will be very much missed by persons at

Alumni Association Organizes

"Working to generate the goodwill of over 750 alumni and contacting over 10,000 persons who have completed at least one course on this campus—that's our first goal for the Alumni Association", vows Jean Rickard, President of the ISUE Alumni Association, with a broad smile. "It is an enormous goal and we will need support of all alumni to reach the goal, but I find this an exhilarating challenge."

The Alumni Association is organized under a Director of Alumni Affairs, John Emhuff; Officers of the Alumni Association; an Executive Council, composed of graduates; and an Advisory Board, composed of faculty with representation from each academic division.

Officers serving along with Jean are Vice-President, Pat Hinkle; Secretary, Melinda

Davidson, and Treasurer, Joyce Crabtree. Executive Council members are Steve Collins, William Burgdorf, Karen Jaquess, Dennis Orsburn, Sharon Johnson and Gayle Burch. Advisory Board members are Frank Stanonis, Chairman, Division of Science-Mathematics; Lois Van Meter, Instructor in Dental Assisting; Larry Arp, Assistant Professor of Business; Dan Scavone, Associate Professor of History; John Gottcent, Assistant Professor of English; and Janet Goodrum, Instructor in Education.

Early in 1974 the Alumni Association will hold its first annual telefund campaign to raise funds for the University and its activities. These funds are to be used for scholarships and a large variety of other University-related activities sponsored by the Alumni Association. This is the first Alumni telefund planned for ISUE.

TEACHER EDUCATION NCATE APPROVED

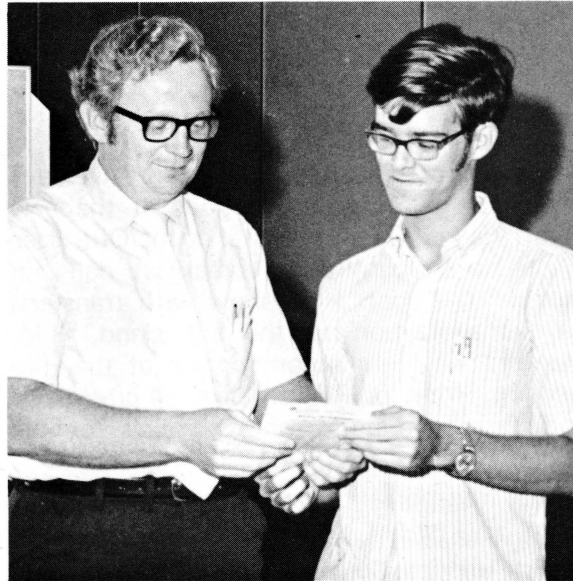

The Education Division at Indiana State University Evansville has received initial accreditation of the teacher education program from the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

NCATE accreditation is the second separate national accreditation the Evansville Campus has received for academic programs. The dental hygiene and dental assisting programs have received provisional approval from the American Dental Association. According to Education Division Chairman Ted DeVries, the accreditation is very important to a campus. "NCATE accreditation is the blue-ribbon accreditation in teacher education. It means leaders in the profession have examined our teacher education program and found it a quality program." A seven person examining board toured the facilities and interviewed faculty and students last March.

In further explanation of the NCATE accreditation and exactly what it means, Dr. DeVries feels the approval illustrates that Indiana State University Evansville is a rapidly maturing institution with outstanding faculty.

The accreditation also means benefits for the student in the ISUE teacher education program. According to DeVries, "it will be possible for our graduates to teach in other states. Through NCATE a teacher license has reciprocity with other states. Students graduating from an NCATE accredited school can more easily enter graduate school. And the accreditation is a good basis for building other programs in teacher education."

The teacher education program at Indiana State University Evansville has departed from traditional teacher education programs. The NCATE accreditation lauds the new direction.

Alumni Affairs Director John Emhuff confers with Dale Scott, recipient of the ISUE Alumni Scholarship. The scholarship was made available through alumni support of the Annual Fund Drive.

Alumni Award Scholarship

The 1973 scholarship award by the ISUE Alumni Association was presented to Dale Scott, a senior social science major. Recording an exemplary academic record as well as a fine service record, Dale has been on the Dean's List every semester. He was named to Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges last year. Dale has been involved as President and Publicity Chairman of the History Club, a member of the President's Council, member of the Student Senate, and Vice President of the Junior Class. He has served as liaison between the Student Senate and the Administration, and has been a member of the Student Election Board and the Student Hearing Commission. Dale aided the Indiana University committee on Historic Preservation Evansville Tour and the Robert Owen Bicentennial Conference at New Har-

EMHUFF NAMED ALUMNI DIRECTOR

John H. Emhuff has been appointed Director of the Office of Alumni Affairs. He will also continue in his role as Director of the Office of Career Placement. Dr. Emhuff came to ISUE in September 1970 as the first Director of Student Teaching. During that first year, he opened the teacher placement office and then expanded that operation the following year to include all academic areas of the University. Most recently, he has served as Acting Dean of Students while continuing to expand the placement service. Before coming to ISUE, Emhuff served as a public school administrator, guidance counselor, and classroom teacher. He earned the Bachelor, Master, and Doctorate degrees at Indiana University, Bloomington, Indiana. His work during the past several years has taken him throughout the state of Indiana and to southern California for a short stay.

In talking with Dr. Emhuff about his new responsibilities as Director of Alumni Affairs, he indicated, "The combination of placement responsibilities and alumni responsibilities have proved thus far to be the most stimulating and exciting part of my professional career." He further indicated that he is looking forward to having the opportunity to renew old acquaintances and make new ones among the alumni of Indiana State University Evansville.

mony, Indiana.

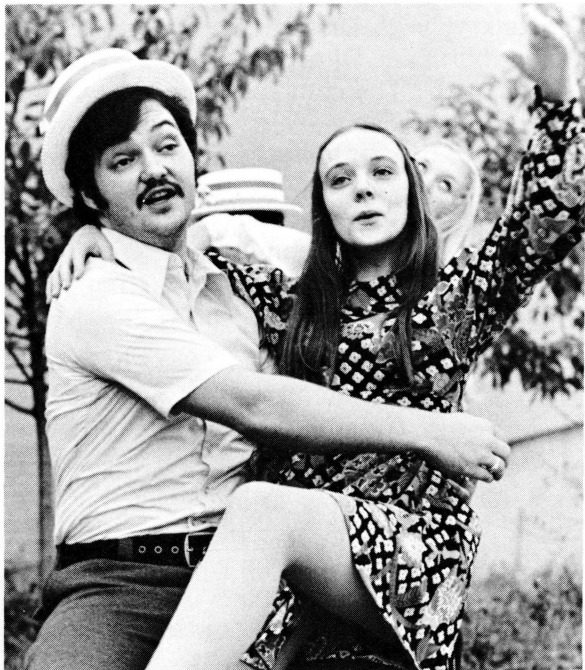

Dale is an area major in Social Studies and when asked about his future plans, he said "I am interested in becoming employed." At the end of this year, he will be seeking a teaching position somewhere in the United States. Dale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Scott of Newburgh.

MID-AMERICA SINGERS

Invite You Along To Hawaii

The Mid-America Singers of Indiana State University Evansville will travel to Hawaii on tour for eight days and seven nights beginning June 1, 1974. The group of young, energetic, and highly talented singers and instrumentalists will tour the famous cities of these islands. University friends, alumni, and University faculty and staff have the opportunity to join the Mid-America Singers Hawaiian tour.

The Hawaiian tour cost is most attractive. The Hawaiian tour will cost each individual only $359.00. The following items are included in that fee: Royal Jet Transportation to Hawaii; tour escort throughout your entire stay; hot meal served in flight each way; flower lei greeting on arrival with traditional Aloha kiss; round trip transportation to hotels and airports; baggage handling at all airports and hotels; pre-registration of rooms; five days and four nights accommodations at the new Hyatt Waikiki Gateway Hotel or the Outrigger West Hotel; continental breakfast daily in Honolulu; Kodak Hula show with transfers; air transportation to the big island, Hilo, Hawaii; one night accommodation at the Hilo Lagoon Hotel or Travellodge; all gratuities for the above items; and all taxes for the above items.

The transportation includes round trip air from Evansville to Chicago to Honolulu.

Mid-America Singers Director David Deeg encourages those thinking of making the trip some day to Hawaii to do it this fun-filled way. "During your eight-day stay, your time is yours to use as you wish. Head for the beach, pick an exotic out-of-the-way place to dine, take advantage of some of the many tour options or dinner shows. Sight-see or explore. Set aside one afternoon to see the Kodak Hula Show. Come with us--we guarantee you a good time."

Sixteen singers and fourteen instrumentalists and one technician will be taking the Hawaiian tour. The Mid-America Singers are raising funds to take the trip. Various projects the Singers have started include painting house numbers in fluorescent paint on sidewalks and sponsoring a boutique bazaar at the campus last November.

Eighteen persons have already made their reservations for the Hawaiian tour. The tour is open to ISUE alumni, Foundation donors, and University friends. Brochures detailing the trip with full color photographs of the Mid-America Singers Daryl Hazel and Jane Rappe rehearse an audience favorite, "When I'm Sixty-Four", a number they will do with the singing group during the Hawaiian tour.

The Mid-America Singers Hawaiian tour, to begin June 1, will travel to the Islands of Oahu, Maui, and Hawaii for eight days and seven nights.

islands are available for you if you write or call the university. Reservations must be in by January 1, 1974. A $50 reservation fee is asked at that time, with final payment due on May 1, 1974. Reservations can be made by contacting David Deeg at Indiana State University Evansville. All tour arrangements are being handled by Grueninger Travel Agency of Indianapolis. Grueninger Travel Agency has coordinated tours for over 48 musical organizations throughout the world.

Come along with the Mid-America Singers to Hawaii. You can relax and enjoy the lush scenery, the surf, the perfect climate, the soft breezes, and Diamond Head.

Campus Service: JAYCEES

ISUE students of the theatre helped designer Ernie Kamatoy paint the ISUE Playhouse in supergraphics. The bright shades of orange and red on a white background enhance the Playhouse. A canopy at the entrance and display lettering are to be added during the spring semester.

In March, 1974, the University Jaycee chapter begins its third year. Chartered in 1972 it became, and still is, the first university Jaycee Chapter in Indiana and one of few in the nation. Designed as an organization to complement organized service functions in the ISUE and public communities, the University Jaycees have been actively engaged in university and community related projects of various kinds during their brief history. To date Jaycee projects have included participation in the Evansville Operation City Beautiful Project fund raising for Multiple Sclerosis and various community needs, fund raising for the ISUE Emergency Loan Fund, assisting in the operation of ISUE activity weeks, and ISUE public forum sponsorship, involvement in non-profit community organization projects such as the YMCA Spook Dungeon, and providing assistance and financial support to the Boy Scouts. In addition, internal chapter programs have produced award-winning Jaycees in areas such as public speaking, project planning, and leadership.

As the University Jaycees enter their third year they are intent on making their presence known in the public community. But in order to achieve this goal they need the support of everyone concerned. They need young men between the ages of 18 and 36 who desire to actively engage in self-improvement programs and community affairs. They need suggestions from residents, businesses, and organizations in the community pertaining to potential projects and activities in which the Jaycees might involve themselves.

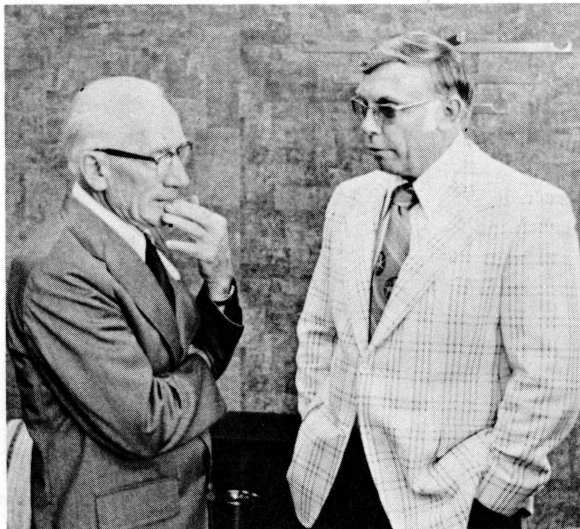

If you are interested in becoming a Jaycee or know of someone who might be, or if you have suggestions concerning possible Jaycee projects in your community, please write University Jaycees, ISUE, 8600 University Blvd., Evansville, Indiana 47712.

President Reports ISUE FOUNDATION MERITS

Joseph E. O'Daniel chats with fellow Foundation Board member Mrs. Irene McDonald prior to a meeting of the Board of Directors.

Mr. William Moutoux, left, and Kenneth Jack Hahn, both on the Board of Directors of the ISUE Foundation, exchange ideas about the office of Treasurer. Mr. Moutoux was elected Treasurer for the 1973-74 year. Mr. Hahn has served since 1969.

During the Foundation Board of Directors annual fall meeting, the President of the Foundation, Joseph O'Daniel, addressed the Board as to the merits of the ISUE Foundation. Excerpts from his address follow.

"The merits of our starting the ISUE Foundation are self-evident. With assets totaling $175,000 the ISUE Foundation begins its fifth year of service to Indiana State University Evansville. The ISUE Foundation has undertaken four major programs to raise funds to cover activities important to a developing institution.

"The first project the ISUE Foundation developed was the Century Club. The Century Club was to be composed of donors who contribute $100 annually for unrestricted funds. The Century Club began in the fall of 1969 with 21 charter members. These charter members were each asked to encourage a friend to join the Century Club. E. Donald Elliott was named chairman of the Century Club project that year and he has served most ably in that position. The February 1970 Century Club roster listed 77 persons who accepted the invitation from Mr. Elliott to aid ISUE in its quest to provide higher education opportunities in the best manner possible to the Tri-State area residents.

"The roster of Century Club members continued to grow with 116 in December 1970; 144 in December 1971; and 200 in December 1972. Enrollment in Century Club at the present time is nearing 250.

"Funds from the Century Club are used to provide scholarship programs, development money for the Mid-America Singers, faculty research, and campus hospitality.

"The Book Club project was established in February 1970 to furnish funds to equip the University Library. Through efforts of Evansville Jaycees and ISUE student organizations over $4,500 was raised in the first month of the campaign. The Book Club is a thriving project that is used especially for "in memoriam" contributions. A book label engraved with the donor's name is attached to a book for each $10.00 contributed. Nearly 500 donors have participated in the Book Club.

"The Dental Education Fund was an ISUE Foundation sponsored project to raise funds for the development of dental education facilities. Local dentists were canvassed as potential donors, and all participants who contributed $200 or more were listed on a recognition plaque that hangs in the dental clinic at ISUE.

"The Donor Recognition Program, the fourth project of the Foundation, was established for promoting interest in financing a room or equipping an office in the University Center with appropriate recognition given to the donors. Donations to the Donor Recognition Program range from $1600 to $10,000. Current total for University Center Donor Recognition Program is over $120,000.00.

"Another fund-raising project, the Screaming Eagles Varsity Club, has come under the auspices of the ISUE Foundation. The Screaming Eagles Varsity Club began as a dream of Mr. Elmer Sander, then Director of Financial Aids at ISUE, who retired last year. He saw the Varsity Club as means to raise funds to support athletic programs at the campus. The Varsity Club began in 1971 and current enrollment in the Varsity Club includes 26 Golden Eagles (persons giving $100 or more) and 100 other members. The Varsity Club's main purpose is to attract athletic talent to the campus through scholarship support.

"We all remember the Campus Recognition Program held by the Chamber of Commerce and the theme of that day that previous accomplishments are but a whisper of things to come. As I give my report today, we recognize our attainments as a whisper of things to come for our Foundation.

"It has been a rewarding and pleasant experience for me to work with this distinguished Board during this four years. Please know that I appreciate your support and cooperation.

"The accomplishments of these past four years are adequate evidence that we are blessed with an abundance of leadership talent. A broad base of support and depth in leadership is essential to the continued success of the Foundation and the development of the Evansville Campus. This can best be maintained by spreading the responsibility of leadership and avoiding a concentration for extended periods of time. Of all the activities in which I am or have been involved I find the ISUE Foundation and development work most pleasant and meaningful and I sincerely hope I can continue to serve and enjoy this association for a long time but it should be as one of you rather than as your president. It is time to recognize other talents and spread the responsibility of leadership."

Mr. O'Daniel served as the first President of the ISUE Foundation. He has served in that capacity since 1969.

BYRON HUBBARD OFFERS ISUE SPORTS A HELPING HAND

Byron Hubbard is a gentleman who has enjoyed sports throughout his lifetime. He played basketball on his high school team in Francisco, Indiana, and has actively supported Indiana University and University of Evansville sports programs for many years.

Indiana State University Evansville is proud to have Byron Hubbard in its cheering block. Mr. Hubbard feels good athletics and a good academic program go together. "A good athletic program brings attention to a school, and that attention brings more students and better students." Mr. Hubbard has done much to get that attention to ISUE. Serving as a member of the 12-member Board of Directors of the Screaming Eagles Varsity Club, Mr. Hubbard seeks support of the athletic programs from his friends and business acquaintances. He has attracted over ten Golden Eagle members to the Varsity Club.

President of Evansville Sheet Metal Works for 27 years, Mr. Hubbard recently retired and his son Mark took over the presidency.

Byron Hubbard displays his Golden Eagle Certificate which recognizes his contributions to the Screaming Eagles for three consecutive years.

Mr. Hubbard is continuing as Chairman of the Board. Conscious of his blessings from God, Mr. Hubbard ranks his family as one of his greatest blessings. He and his lovely wife Marjorie, President of Apex Tool and Manufacturing, Inc., have three sons and one daughter. Eldest son, B. Joseph Hubbard, is principal of Ivanhoe School in Gary, Indiana. Second son Robert is Executive Secretary of United Fund in Owensboro, Kentucky. Third child, Mark, serves as President and Treasurer of Evansville Sheet Metal. His only daughter, Susan (Mrs. Terry Babb) is Secretary of Evansville Sheet Metal.

Throughout his business career Mr. Hubbard was an active member of Evansville's Foreman's Club, and served as its President in 1956. He is now serving as a Director and Adviser of the President's Council of the Foreman's Club. He has also been working for the past fifteen years with Southwestern Indiana Mental Health Center and was President last year. Currently he is serving as President of the Council of Churches. Mr. Hubbard is one of the few laymen named to preside as President.

A delightful person, with a warm smile, and forever ready to share his enthusiasm about ISUE with others, Mr. Hubbard anticipates a strong year for ISUE athletics. He served as Varsity Club Stag co-chairman, with Clarence Altstadt, and the Stag had a record attendance.

Mr. Hubbard's interest in ISUE is not limited only to the Screaming Eagles Varsity Club. He is also a member of the Century Club and the Donor Recognition Program.

RAMSDEN DIRECTS VETERANS AFFAIRS

Indiana State University Evansville recently established an Office of Veterans Affairs through a grant made possible by the federal government. Donald Ramsden was appointed Director of Veterans Affairs. He is assisted by a secretary, several peer group counselors, and outreach worker-counselors.

The function of the Office of Veterans Affairs is basically three-fold. The first is a counseling function. A strong liason with community counseling resources will be developed and maintained to assist all veterans. In addition, peer group counselors will be utilized to provide veterans with information on VA educational benefits, remedial and special education programs, and referrals to various agencies such as Veterans Administration, Legal Aid, American Red Cross, drug dependency units, medical assistance and job employment agencies, and other agencies that could provide supportive services for the veteran.

The second function is the one concerned with special education programs including remedial, tutorial, and motivational programs which are designed to insure success at ISUE.

Finally, the outreach function is an extensive community wide program of reaching veterans, determining their needs and making appropriate referral and follow-up arrangements with relevant service agencies. Persons are encouraged to contact Mr. Ramsden to discuss veterans needs, problems, or to offer suggestions related to veterans problems.

RUSTIC LODGE RESTORED

A log lodge on a southeast portion of the campus has been restored by Westwood Garden Club. The Westwood Lodge, so-named by ISUE President David Rice in recognition of the work of the members of the Garden Club, is a rustic meeting place for scout troops, science and biology teachers and their classes on field trips, or any group that enjoys the outdoors.

Westwood Lodge is situated on top of a bluff adjoining a natural amphitheater. The bluff and cave-like depressions in the surrounding woods lend a beautiful setting to the lodge.

In May 1971 Westwood Garden Club had won top prize in a nationwide environmental improvement program co-sponsored by the National Council of State Garden Clubs and Sears Roebuck Co. The project was development of an outdoor learning environment on the ISUE campus. The project was named Bent Twig Outdoor Learning Environment and consisted of 25 acres of foot trails and vistas overlooking a 7½ acre lake. Along with top prize honors the Club received $2500 in prize money. With the prize money as a base, and various fund raising ventures, the club voted to restore the log lodge.

The lodge was a summer home of the James McCarty family in the 1940's. Mrs. McCarty states that 100 year old hand hewed logs from an original pioneer barn were used to construct the lodge.

Westwood Lodge has one main room with a fireplace, an enclosed porch, and an outdoor patio. The lodge accommodates between 45 and 60 persons.

Westwood Lodge sits on the edge of a steep bluff in a quiet woods area on southeast campus. It was recently renovated by Westwood Garden Club and has the distinction of holding Another log structure located about 100 yards from Westwood Lodge is being restored by the Garden Club and twenty-four students in an intermediate carpenter class from the Breckenridge Job Corps Center in Morganfield, Kentucky.

This second renovation project is part of the total plan to restore the log buildings on the campus undertaken by Westwood Garden Club. The lodge when completed can be used for field trips, scout meetings, and as an overnight camping facility.

Marshall Arnold, instructor in the carpenter class and supervisor of the project, explained that the corpsmen are using the project for a laboratory training program.

the first class at ISUE. Before buildings were completed at ISUE a biology class from Centennial campus met in the log lodge for a field trip in early 1969.

At the recognition breakfast of the opening of Westwood Lodge, the McCarty family, who were previous owners of the lodge, joined in the festivities. Mrs. Dorothy McCarty (far left), and her son and his wife, Mr. & Mrs. Jim McCarty were pleased to see the summer home restored.
