Information sessions slated on two USI master's programs

For immediate release
July 10, 1997

Information sessions are slated at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 22, in the University of Southern Indiana Orr Center, covering fall enrollment in two USI programs -- the Master of Business Administration and the new Master of Science in Accountancy.

Each program is designed for the busy professional and offers reasonable length in completing work on the degree, along with evening classes taught by full-time faculty who use up-to-date curricula. Both accounting and non-accounting undergraduate majors are welcome in the M.S.A. program.

Call 812/464-1926 for information.
