

MURAL ARTIST TO SPEAK. Gilbert Wilson, a Franklin County resident noted for his mural paintings, will present a talk at the Indiana State University Evansville Humanities Forum Friday, November 19, 1976. During a 25-year period, Mr. Wilson has also created over 300 depictions of the scenes and characters in Herman Melville's Moby Dick.

A left-handed artist, Mr. Wilson was trained at Teachers College in Terre Haute, the Art Institute of Chicago and the Yale School of Fine Arts, where he was awarded the Beau Arts Medal.

Recognized nationally for his artistic achievements, Wilson has worked with muralist Eugene Savage and studied sculpture with Urbici Soler in San Francisco.

Mr. Wilson will speak at 12:00 noon in Room A34.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS. MELVIN DENNER, Acting Division Chairman of Science and Mathematics; ROLLA DYER, Professor of Chemistry; and JACKSON MARR, Associate Professor of Life Science, attended the Indiana Academy of Science Convention at Valparaiso University on November 4 and 5. DR. MARR has been elected Chairman of the Zoology Section of the Indiana Academy of Science for 1978.

ROBERT E. MAYS, Director of Student Teaching and Laboratory Experiences, has been selected to appear in the Dictionary of International Biography, Volume XIV - A biographical record of contemporary achievement.

NEW CALENDARS IN. The 1977 Desk Calendars are in and may be picked up at the University Bookstore.

CARD PARTY IN CAFETERIA TONIGHT. The Scholarship Benefit Card Party sponsored by the Women of Indiana State University Evansville will be held in the cafeteria of the University beginning at 7:30 p.m. tonight. All proceeds of this event are used for college scholarships awarded to students attending ISUE.

Tickets are $2.00 and are available at the door. Included in the ticket price are coffee and dessert, a scholarship donation, plus a chance to win one of the many lovely door prizes, featuring handcrafted items, plants, and gifts.

The public is invited and encouraged to support this worthy cause. Those attending should plan to bring cards or any game of their choice.

MCNAUGHTON BICENTENNIAL SCULPTURE INSTALLED. "Flowing River", an 11-1/2 foot Cor-ten steel sculpture conceived by JOHN MCNAUGHTON, ISUE Assistant Professor of Art, and built by Evansville Sheet Metal Works, Inc., was installed by Poe Erection Company on Saturday, November 13 at the Evansville Museum as part of the City's continuing Bicentennial celebration.

Chosen by a broadly based citizens' committee chaired by Evansville attorney Ted Ziemer, McNaughton's work was selected from among 18 applications by Indiana artists earlier in the year. Located in the Museum's Sculpture Garden, the new work will have the Ohio River as its backdrop.

The project was supported by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts in Washington, D.C., a federal agency, and the Indiana Arts Commission, a state agency. The Commission provides aid for a wide variety of programs and services in the performing, visual and literary arts, available to community groups and organizations throughout the state.

The Evansville Museum is matching the $4,000 Arts Commission grant to the Evansville Bicentennial Council with an additional $4,000 from its own Hilb-Gumberts-Hirsheimer Trust.

BUSINESS SEMINAR SESSIONS CONCLUDE THURSDAY. Dr. Frederick Winter from the University of Illinois will be the featured speaker in the final session of the three-part seminar, Regional Business Opportunities: Looking Beyond Tomorrow, on Thursday, November 18 at Indiana State University Evansville.

One of the nation's leading new product development strategists, Dr. Winter will be discussing areas of future business and economic growth in the region; buying power and retail business development trends; and developing, predicting and monitoring new products. A panel of Evansville men and women will react to Dr. Winter's comments.

The seminar is sponsored by the Division of Business, and the Chambers of Commerce of Evansville and Mt. Vernon. The sessions are held in the ISUE University Center beginning at 4:30 p.m. Registration forms are available in the ISUE Office of Continuing Education.

EAGLES SCRIMMAGE THURSDAY NIGHT. The ISUE Basketball Eagles will host their annual public scrimmage at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, November 18 at ISUE Arena. COACH BOULTINGHOUSE has high hopes for this year's team and is anxious to put them on display to the public. The 13 member roster will be divided into two teams for a full game scrimmage.

The scrimmage is free to the public although a donation will be accepted for the Hillcrest Children's Home. The children will be guests of the Eagles for the scrimmage and the donations will go towards sponsoring their Thanksgiving Day dinner.

OPPORTUNITY TO PUBLISH. Students of History 202, to be offered during Spring semester, will select a topic in European History and trace Americans' awareness of it as manifested in the running daily accounts and editorials of the New York Times. ISUE's Library has a microfilm edition of The Times dating back to 1851. Students, in teams of two, will prepare a written report of their findings.

The course affords students the opportunity to do original research and to draw original conclusions not necessarily predictable by either the students or the instructor. The originality lies in the special approach to the topic: how it was presented to American readers in the American press.

Persons interested in more details of the course can contact DAN SCAVONE, Associate Professor of History, extension 219 or 225.

BULLOCK TO SPEAK. Dr. James Bullock, Director of the Institute of Management Accounting, will be on campus Thursday, November 18 from 11:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. to speak to students on the certificate in management accounting. Dr. Bullock is from Ann Arbor, Michigan. He will be speaking in Room 192 to a class instructed by WILLIAM KOLB, Assistant Professor of Business.
