The Student Education Association at Indiana State University Evansville received the membership award from the Indiana Student Education Association for the year 1972-73. The award was given in recognition of the most outstanding growth in membership of any SEA chapter in Indiana for 1972-73.

Membership in the ISUE Chapter of Student Education Association increased by 98% from 104 members in September, 1972 to 199 members to date. The Student Education Association is an organization of elementary education majors and students in secondary education.

The award was presented to ISUE senior Sharon Wallace and ISUE senior Mary Dixon at the ISEA State Convention in Indianapolis on April 7, 1972.

J. Maxwell Davis, Associate Professor of Life Science, and Robert Small, Associate Professor of Education and Education Psychology, are faculty sponsors for the ISUE chapter of Student Education Association.
