Student Success Week puts focus on life skills, retention

The University of Southern Indiana's University Division will host the fourth-annual Student Success Week Tuesday, February 2 through Thursday, February 4 in the University Center.

Student Success Week is dedicated to improving students' academic success and retention on campus. Workshops focused on developing a student's mind, self and awareness of the world will be presented by faculty, administrators, students and alumni.

Sample topics include developing healthy relationships, test-taking skills, time management, roommates and combating discrimination.

The week will start with an open house for students in Traditions Lounge, located on the second floor of University Center East. Students will be able to play carnival games for prizes, have pictures taken with Archie Eagle, and learn more about the week's programming and workshops.

A full schedule of events and workshops is available on the University Division webpage.
