UNIVERSITY NOTES. VOL. X NO. 28 MARCH 24, 1976
Editor, Kathy Funke; Associate Editor, Julie Gaul

AMERICAN ISSUES FORUM. "A Post-Watergate/OPEC View of American Foreign Policy" will be the subject of the March 24 American Issues Forum. The discussion will revolve around American Foreign Policy and how it has been changed by Watergate, defeat in Vietnam, and the rise of OPEC. The program, open to the public, will be in Room A34 at 7:30 p.m. Speaker to be announced.

GUEST SPEAKER ON CAMPUS. Robert K. Dornan, National Spokesman for Citizens for Decency Through Law, will speak at ISUE on March 25, 1976 at 2:30 p.m. in the University Conference Center. Mr. Dornan, a TV personality, political analyst, world traveler, and husband and father of five children, is one of the country's leading spokesmen for decency in America. Whether in panel discussion or heated debate, he expounds his point of view with a vitality and clarity that even opponents find impressive.

Bob Dornan has been active in Citizens for Decency Through Law since June of 1973. Citizens for Decency Through Law, founded in 1957 by former member of the President's Commission on Obscenity and Pornography, Charles H. Keating, Jr., is the largest and most effective anti-pornography group in the nation. In his lectures and debates, Mr. Dornan represents the CDL position of strict enforcement of the nation's obscenity laws as well as his own strong moral convictions.

Bob Dornan's lecture is open to the public. His appearance is sponsored by the ISUE Student Union Board.

HUMANITIES FORUM. The Humanities Forum will present "Money and Politics," by Quentin Davis, Assistant Professor of Political Science, on Friday, March 26 at 11:00 a.m. in the Rare Books Room. From testimony and evidence offered in Watergate and related investigations, the impact of money in politics has once again been brought into focus. However, 1976 is an election year with new rules. What those new rules are and how they might influence campaigns will be the concern of the lecture.

On Monday, March 29, the Humanities Forum will feature Charles Barber, Associate Professor of Political Science, at 11:00 a.m. in the Rare Books Room. "Enigmatic India" will be a discussion of Dr. Barber's six-week Group Study Exchange visit to India.

BLOOD PRESSURE CLINIC. Health Services will offer a free blood pressure clinic for all ISUE employees on March 26, 1976. The purpose of the clinic is to take a resting blood pressure reading and determine if it is within "normal" limits. By taking the blood pressure reading, a medical professional can determine if the person suffers from hypertension, a condition which frequently results in heart disease, and may eventually be fatal. The clinic is voluntary, however every employee is urged to take advantage of the opportunity. No permanent record will be kept of the readings, and all results will be kept strictly confidential. The clinic will be held March 26, from 7:30 a.m.-6:00 p.m. in the Forum. Employees with a last name beginning with A-L may come to the Forum any time between 7:30 a.m.-12:00 noon; employees with a last name beginning with M-Z may have their blood pressure taken from 1:00 p.m.-6:00 p.m. Any person unable to come in for the clinic on March 26 may make an appointment with Pat Like, Director of Health Services, Ext. 307. Any questions may be directed to Mrs. Like.

COMMUNICATIONS FORUM TO PRESENT PLAYS. The ISUE Communications Forum, a student organization composed of students with a strong interest in the arts and theatre, is presenting two one-act student-directed plays on March 26 and March 27 at the ISUE Theatre. Show time is 8:15 p.m. Tickets are $1.00, available at the door.

The first play, "A Nice Time at Home," is a modern satire, an updated version of Tom Sawyer. The cast consists of six characters. They are Tom, played by Jim Brantley; Aunt Polly, B. J. Gilles; Hucky, R. Brindley; Becky, Stephanie Pearson; LaRue, Jane Hormuth; and Karen, Lana Goffinet. The play was written and is being directed by Robert Brindley, an ISUE student.

The second play is "Who Killed My Bald Sister Sophie?" by Tom Eyen, a New York playwright. The play is directed by ISUE student, Janis Hollingsworth. The cast for "Who Killed My Bald Sister Sophie?" includes three ISUE students -- Linnette Porter as Sophie; Mary Hukill as Hanna; and Gary Jackson as Arizona. "This play is absurd theatre," according to the director. "It is a psychological study of two sisters."

"These plays are adult theatre," commented Jane Hormuth, a member of Communications Forum, "and some of the material may be objectionable for minors."

ISUE BASEBALL SEASON UNDERWAY. The ISUE baseball season is well underway with the fourth game scheduled to be played on Saturday, March 27 at 1:00 p.m. The ISUE Eagles will take on Northwestern on the ISUE baseball diamond.

Enthusiasm, hustling, confidence and aggressiveness are terms used by Coach Larry Shown in describing this year's Eagles squad. "During the short fall season, most players, especially first year men, matured enormously. Enthusiasm and hustle have been traits of this group of men since I came to ISUE last fall," concludes Coach Shown.

SPRING NONCREDIT SERIES. Eleven courses will be offered in the spring noncredit series at ISUE. The courses will be presented in a noncompetitive informal atmosphere where interest in learning is the primary consideration. No grades are assigned, no academic credit is given, and formal admission to the University is not required. Three of the courses to be offered include Creative Writing Workshop, Genealogy: Tracing Your Family Tree, and Understanding Death and Dying.

The Creative Writing Workshop will provide beginning writers and persons already writing the opportunity to analyze and discuss their creative efforts. Elements of structure, style, and content will be reviewed, and manuscripts submitted by the class and the instructor will be analyzed. The course will cover poetry, drama, fiction, and other types of writing, and will be taught by Eric vonFuhrmann, Assistant Professor of English. The course begins March 29 in UC353. The fee is $35.00.

SPRING NONCREDIT SERIES, CONTINUED. The Bicentennial celebration has stimulated widespread interest in American History and learning about the roles of individual families in our nation's past. The course, Genealogy: Tracing Your Family Tree, will provide an introduction to genealogy, and will deal with beginning research, notekeeping and organization, uses of resources such as county and federal records, library and church materials, migration and maps, and the validity and location of genealogical records. Mrs. Eileen Stoltz will be teaching the class for eight Thursdays, beginning April 1, in UC351. The fee is $25.00; husbands and wives can enroll together for one-and-one-half times the regular registration fee.

Understanding Death And Dying is a course designed especially to assist those in the helping professions deal more effectively with the phenomenon of death. Cultural values and attitudes toward death; the theme of death in literature, philosophy, and religion; psychological reactions to the dying person; interaction with the dying person; and confronting personal death will be topics of discussion. The course will be conducted by Brandon Melton, Assistant Director of Education, Welborn Hospital, and Rev. Gene Kinney, Pastor, St. Mark's Lutheran Church. The eight-week course begins April 5 in Room 107 of the Library. The fee is $30.00.

The noncredit courses are being offered by the Office of Continuing Education. For registration materials, contact Ext. 363. Course descriptions of the other spring noncredit classes will run in future issues of University Notes.

ROOM NAMED. The name of the meeting room in the University Center that is adjacent to the Cafeteria, informally known as the Wicker Room, has been designated as the President's Suite. The purpose of the room is for formal receptions, small luncheons, and other special events, rather than meeting or conference room use. Reservations for the President's Suite can be made through Mrs. Judy Rogers, President's Office.

CHILDREN'S CENTER TO BE OPEN DURING SUMMER. The Children's Center will be open for the summer. The age limits for children accepted to the Children's Center has also been expanded for the summer. According to Dr. Donald Bennett, Vice President for Administration, "The ISUE Children's Center will be open Monday through Friday from 7:45 a.m. to noon during the two summer sessions. Children between ages 3 to 5 and 6 to 11 will be accepted in the Center." The two age groups will meet in separate rooms.

The Children's Center is open to pre-school age children and children up to the age of 11 whose parent or parents are attending classes at ISUE. While the student is in class or studying, the child is cared for at the Center.

Cost of the sessions are 75¢ per hour for the first child and 25¢ per hour for each additional child. Information regarding the Children's Center and application forms are available in the Office of the Vice President for Administration, Room AD111, Ext. 257.

NEW REFERENCE SETS AVAILABLE IN LIBRARY. A $1,800 30-volume set of the Great Soviet Encyclopedia (in English) has been donated to the Library as a public service by WVHI-FM, Evansville, through the generosity of Mr. Samuel Angel. The first nine volumes, plus a soft cover index, have been received. Additional volumes will be received as they are published.

The Library has also received free of charge for a six month trial period a $1,200 multi-discipline reference set. The reference set can be found on Index Table II-A, and contains information on nearly every subject, from AAUP to Zwangedabas (including computers, testing, accountability, collective bargaining, right to privacy, and medical plants.) SAFE BROWN BAG LUNCH TIPS. How many times have you missed a couple of days work because of a "flu bug," or the kids have come home from school suffering from "a bug that's going around?" According to the United States Department of Agriculture, the "bug" may well have been a mild case of food poisoning, and may have been sent to work or school in that innocent brown bag lunch. Most germs that cause food poisoning are killed when the food is cooked. But some germs that produce poisons are not destroyed by heat, or they can be introduced when foods are handled after cooking. Leaving food at room temperatures for more than two hours, including preparation time, allows these germs to grow to dangerous numbers, and brown bag lunches can provide them a prime environment.

The key to packing a safe brown bag lunch includes good, sensible sanitation, personal hygiene, and sound food care. The U.S. Department of Agriculture provides some practical tips on packing a safe lunch.

- Cook food thoroughly. If it's meant to be hot, keep it hot. If it's meant to be cool, keep it cool. Bacteria thrive between 45° and 115°F. The familiar vacuum bottle is a good way to keep certain foods hot or cold. If a refrigerator is not available, a freezer gel device may be put in the lunchbag to keep the lunch cold. Certain types of sandwiches may also be frozen the night before. Frozen sandwiches thaw in time for lunch and help keep the rest of the lunch cool.
- Keep utensils and countertops, used in preparing lunches, clean. Remove stubborn bacteria from cutting boards by scrubbing with soap and hot water.
- Use a lunch box instead of a paper bag. Lunchboxes hold the cold much better than paper bags, and are easy to keep clean. If brown bags are used, however, they should be bought specifically for lunches and should be used at once. Don't use bags which have contained left-over lunches, groceries, or other items.
- Suggestions for brown bag lunch menus include canned meat and poultry products, opened and eaten immediately; dry meats or fully cooked products, like bologna and franks; frozen chicken or turkey; soups, stews and chili, if kept hot in a sterile vacuum bottle; fruits and vegetables; peanut butter; aged cheese, and dried fruit spreads.

Because the symptoms are similar, flu and food poisoning are often mistaken for each other. Food poisoning is rarely fatal, but may cause extreme discomfort. The important thing to remember is -- why take chances, when food poisoning can be prevented!
