RICE SCHOLARSHIP WINNER CHOSEN. Ms. Jayne E. Dewig, a Mater Dei High School senior who is graduating fourth in her class, has been selected as the first recipient of the David L. Rice Scholarship. She expects to pursue a degree in the USI Division of Science and Mathematics, with a specific field still to be decided. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Dewig of 3401 Detroy Road, she will receive a full four-year scholarship if she meets the requirements of successfully completing 12 credits per semester while maintaining at least a 3.2 cumulative grade point average.

The Rice Endowment funds scholarships for students of promise, regardless of financial need or place of residence. It was initiated by the USI Faculty Council in 1985, when USI became Indiana's sixth state university, to honor the man who guided the development of the University toward separation. President Rice came to Evansville in 1967 as the first administrative head of the Evansville campus of Indiana State University, was dean of the campus from 1967 to 1971, then president until July, 1985, when the new USI Board of Trustees named him the first USI president.

Participants will arrive Sunday, June 21, for registration and the opening dinner, when they will meet the program staff and instructors for the three courses being offered this year. The courses include "Where Were You In '42? - Remembering the Second World War;" a computer introduction, "A Few Bytes Before Lunch;" and a photography class, "Taking the Good Times Home." The participants have been invited to bring photos, letters, and other memorabilia to share in the World War II discussion of battles, politics, and the homefront. Also on the agenda for the week are tours of Evansville and Historic New Harmony, plus a shopping trip to Eastland Mall. A dance will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Solarbron, the retirement community adjacent to USI, and will feature '40s era big-band music.
