

NEWS RELEASE

Kathy Funke, Director
News & Information Services
812/465-7005
FAX 812/465-1096
E-mail kfunke@usi.edu
www.usi.edu/events.htm

For Immediate Release

January 25, 2002

University of Southern Indiana counselors offer reception for high school students and parents

College counselors from the Admission Office of the University of Southern Indiana (USI) will hold a public information reception in South Bend from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, February 5, 2002 at the Marriott South Bend Hotel, 123 North St. Joseph Street. High school students, their parents, and other interested individuals are welcome and encouraged to attend the evening program.

The counselors will talk about the academic programs and residence life programs at USI, the admission process, scholarships, orientation, and how to register for classes. Food will be available.

USI has a competitive scholarship program that is attractive to top scholars. The Presidential Scholarships are valued at more than $25,000 over four years. These are scholarships for Indiana high school valedictorians. A Baccalaureate/Doctor of Medicine (B/MD) program and Deans' Scholarships are also appealing. The B/MD program offers simultaneous admission to USI's premedical program and provisional admission to the Evansville Center of Indiana University's School of Medicine. Students in the B/MD program receive full tuition waivers during their undergraduate years. Students selected for the Deans' Scholarship receive awards valued at more than $12,000 over four years.

Reservations for the information reception can be made by February 5 by calling 800/467-1965.

University of Southern Indiana is a comprehensive, public university located in Evansville, Indiana. Established in 1965, USI offers a rich learning environment for 9,300 students. There is an institution-wide commitment to student success. Sixty majors are offered in five schools including School of Business, Bower-Suhrheinrich School of Education and Human Services, School of Liberal Arts, School of Nursing and Health Professions, and Pott School of Science and Engineering Technology. More information is available at www.usi.edu.

Sent to: South Bend Tribune, Mishawaka Enterprise, The Michigan City News-Dispatch, LaPorte Herald, Plymouth Pilot-News, Culver Citizen, The Leader (Knox, IN)

For Immediate Release

February 4, 2002

University of Southern Indiana counselors offer reception for high school students and parents

College counselors from the Admission Office of the University of Southern Indiana (USI) will hold a public information reception in Indianapolis from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Monday, February 18, 2002 at the Marriott Indianapolis North, 3645 River Crossing Parkway. High school students and their parents and other interested individuals are welcome and encouraged to attend the evening program.

The counselors will talk about the academic programs and residence life programs at USI, the admission process, scholarships, orientation, and how to register for classes. Food will be available.

USI has a competitive scholarship program that is attractive to top scholars. The Presidential Scholarships are valued at more than $25,000 over four years. These are scholarships for Indiana high school valedictorians. A Baccalaureate/Doctor of Medicine (B/MD) program and Deans' Scholarships are also appealing. The B/MD program offers simultaneous admission to USI's premedical program and provisional admission to the Evansville Center of Indiana University's School of Medicine. Students in the B/MD program receive full tuition waivers during their undergraduate years. Students selected for the Deans' Scholarship receive awards valued at more than $12,000 over four years.

Reservations for the information reception can be made by February 18 by calling 800/467-1965.

University of Southern Indiana is a comprehensive, public university located in Evansville, Indiana. Established in 1965, USI offers a rich learning environment for 9,300 students. There is an institution-wide commitment to student success. Sixty majors are offered in five schools including School of Business, Bower-Suhrheinrich School of Education and Human Services, School of Liberal Arts, School of Nursing and Health Professions, and Pott School of Science and Engineering Technology. More information is available at www.usi.edu.

Sent to: Indianapolis Star; Lebanon Reporter; Zionsville Sentinel; Topics Newspapers (Fisher); Noblesville Times; Greenfield Daily Reporter; New Palestine Press; Shelbyville News; Daily Journal of Johnson County; Danville Republican; Web

For Immediate Release

January 25, 2002

University of Southern Indiana counselors offer reception for high school students and parents

College counselors from the Admission Office of the University of Southern Indiana (USI) will hold a public information reception in Merrillville from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, February 6, 2002 at the Radisson Star Plaza, 800 East 81st Avenue. High school students and their parents and other interested individuals are welcome and encouraged to attend the evening program.

The counselors will talk about the academic programs and residence life programs at USI, the admission process, scholarships, orientation, and how to register for classes. Food will be available.

USI has a competitive scholarship program that is attractive to top scholars. The Presidential Scholarships are valued at more than $25,000 over four years. These are scholarships for Indiana high school valedictorians. A Baccalaureate/Doctor of Medicine (B/MD) program and Deans' Scholarships are also appealing. The B/MD program offers simultaneous admission to USI's premedical program and provisional admission to the Evansville Center of Indiana University's School of Medicine. Students in the B/MD program receive full tuition waivers during their undergraduate years. Students selected for the Deans' Scholarship receive awards valued at more than $12,000 over four years.

Reservations for the information reception can be made by February 6 by calling 800/467-1965.

University of Southern Indiana is a comprehensive, public university located in Evansville, Indiana. Established in 1965, USI offers a rich learning environment for 9,300 students. There is an institution-wide commitment to student success. Sixty majors are offered in five schools including School of Business, Bower-Suhrheinrich School of Education and Human Services, School of Liberal Arts, School of Nursing and Health Professions, and Pott School of Science and Engineering Technology. More information is available at www.usi.edu.

Sent to: Gary Crusader, Merrillville Post-Tribune, Hammond Times, Cedar Lake Journal, Crown Point Star, Portage Journal News, Chesterton Tribune, Rensselaer Republican, Newton County Enterprise, The Guide (Morocco, IN)

For Immediate Release

January 29, 2002

University of Southern Indiana counselors offer reception for high school students and parents

College counselors from the Admission Office of the University of Southern Indiana (USI) will hold a public information reception in Ft. Wayne from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. on Monday, February 4, 2002 at the Marriot, 305 East Washington Center Road. High school students and their parents and other interested individuals are welcome and encouraged to attend the evening program.

The counselors will talk about the academic programs and residence life programs at USI, the admission process, scholarships, orientation, and how to register for classes. Food will be available.

USI has a competitive scholarship program that is attractive to top scholars. The Presidential Scholarships are valued at more than $25,000 over four years. These are scholarships for Indiana high school valedictorians. A Baccalaureate/Doctor of Medicine (B/MD) program and Deans' Scholarships are also appealing. The B/MD program offers simultaneous admission to USI's premedical program and provisional admission to the Evansville Center of Indiana University's School of Medicine. Students in the B/MD program receive full tuition waivers during their undergraduate years. Students selected for the Deans' Scholarship receive awards valued at more than $12,000 over four years.

Reservations for the information reception can be made by February 4 by calling 800/467-1965.

University of Southern Indiana is a comprehensive, public university located in Evansville, Indiana. Established in 1965, USI offers a rich learning environment for 9,300 students. There is an institution-wide commitment to student success. Sixty majors are offered in five schools including School of Business, Bower-Suhrheinrich School of Education and Human Services, School of Liberal Arts, School of Nursing and Health Professions, and Pott School of Science and Engineering Technology. More information is available at www.usi.edu.

Sent to: Ft. Wayne Journal-Gazette, East Allen Courier, Hometown Northwest News, Monroeville News, Allen County Times, The Bluffton News-Banner, Ossian Journal, Huntington Herald-Press, Roanoke News, Churubusco News, Columbia City Post & Mail, The Tribune-News, Albion New Era, Kendallville Mail, Ligonier Advance, The Evening Star, Butler Bulletin, Garrett Clipper, Herald-Republican