USI Student Art Show slated April 13-20

For immediate release
April 7, 1997

A reception from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, April 13, in the University Conference Center will open the 27th annual Student Art Show at the University of Southern Indiana. The student works will remain on public display from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily through April 20 in the conference center.

Steve Mannheimer, who has taught at the Herron School of Art since 1976 and is the visual art critic for The Indianapolis Star/News, is the juror for this year's show. He also is president of the Mid America College Art Association and writes regularly for The New Art Examiner and other art and architecture magazines.

As part of his two-day visit, Mannheimer will speak at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 10, at The Atheneum in New Harmony, Indiana, on the topic "A Critic Apologizes: A Defense, Explanation, and Regret." It will be a discussion of the dilemma of contemporary art and its relation to society. The program is free and open to the public. A reception will follow at the New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art.

For information, contact Kathryn M. Waters, associate professor of art, 812/464-1933.
