Visiting artist to speak at USI

University of Southern Indiana's fall 2001 Visiting Artist will make two presentations on campus in November.

Mr. Bradford Johnson will lead "Survivor: The American Art World," a discussion of what it takes to be self-supporting as an artist, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 28, in rooms 203 and 204 of the University Center.

The discussion will address marketing artwork, receiving grants and residencies, holding other jobs, supporting a studio, and the attendant work and worries of an artist.

On Thursday, November 29, Johnson will give a slide lecture on his work, "Land, Sea, and Sky: The Paintings of Bradford Johnson." The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. in Kley Meyer Auditorium in the Liberal Arts Center.

Johnson completed his undergraduate work at Rhode Island School of Design and Wheaton College. He earned an M.F.A. from Hunter College in 1994 and received a Pollack-Krasner Foundation Grant in 1998. He has been awarded artist residencies at Yaddo in Saratoga Springs, New York, and at the McDowell Artist Colony in Peterborough, New Hampshire.

The Pepper Gallery in Boston, Massachusetts, and Gwenda Jay Addington Gallery in Chicago, Illinois, represent Johnson's work.
