

Bari-Ellen Roberts to speak at USI

Bari-Ellen Roberts, president of Bari-Ellen Roberts, Inc., a management consultant firm that focuses on diversity, sexual harassment, and violence in the workplace, will speak at 10 a.m. Monday, January 15, in Carter Hall, as part of the University's program held in observance of Martin Luther King, Jr. Day.

In 1996, Roberts made history as lead plaintiff in a class-action racial discrimination suit against Texaco, the fourth largest U.S. oil company that settled out-of-court for $176 million.

Roberts received a B.A. in business from Loyola University in Chicago, and in 1990 was recruited by Texaco to join the finance department as senior financial analyst. After a year at Texaco, she suspected a persistent pattern of racial discrimination. Roberts attempted to work within the company to help Texaco improve its women's and minority programs. After repeated resistance by the company, she filed the lawsuit. Her book Roberts vs. Texaco, A True Story of Race and Corporate America, is a testimony of her fight against discrimination.

Roberts has won numerous awards including "The Joyce Johnson Award," from The National Association of Securities Professionals; "The Courage in Action Award," from the National Black Chamber of Commerce; and "Church Women United-Human Rights Award," from the United Nations. She serves as chair of the African-American Association for Corporate Responsibility.

USI will celebrate memory of Martin Luther King, Jr. with five days of activities

Monday, January 15 - 10 a.m. - Martin L. King, Jr. Observance Program, Carter Hall. Bari-Ellen Roberts (see above).

Tuesday, January 16 - 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. - Martin Luther King, Jr.: The Man and the Dream, Carter Hall. Dr. Martin L. King, Jr. changed race relations in America. His efforts to end racial injustice through nonviolent means made him the beacon of the Civil Rights movement. This 50-minute video revisits the life of the legendary leader through interviews with his confidants and gives an analysis of his speeches and sermons.

Wednesday, January 17 - 11 a.m., 1 p.m. - Martin Luther King, Jr. Speeches, Carter Hall. Some of Dr. King's most significant speeches are featured on this video; including the classic "I Have a Dream" speech, delivered in August 1963.

Thursday, January 18 - 11 a.m., 1 p.m. - Martin Luther King, Jr. Speeches, Carter Hall. Repeat of video offered on January 16.

Friday, January 19 - 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. - Martin Luther King, Jr.: The Man and the Dream, Carter Hall. Repeat of video offered on January 16.

CASTL advisory group formed

Dr. Robert L. Reid, vice president for Academic Affairs, announces the creation of a Carnegie Academy for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (CASTL) advisory group at USI. The members of this group are Dr. Iain Crawford, professor of English and dean of the School of Liberal Arts; Dr. Scott Gordon, associate professor of biology; Dr. Judy Halstead, associate professor of nursing and director of Instructional Services and Resources; Dr. Charles Harrington, associate professor of management and assistant vice president for Academic Affairs; Dr. Charles Price, professor of science education and chair of the Teacher Education Department; and Dr. Timothy Schibik, associate professor of economics and director of the Center for Teaching and Learning Excellence.

This group will follow a model developed by the Carnegie Academy for the Advancement of Teaching in conjunction with the American Association for Higher Education to set up programs to more fully and formally develop the University's public commitment to teaching as scholarly work. Related goals are to improve the quality of student learning and elevate the status of teaching. Specifically, the group will engage in activities designed to promote the scholarship of teaching, encourage the development of alternative instructional delivery method utilization on campus, and participate in both local and national discussion pertaining to the scholarship of teaching.

USI to offer "Super Seven" ticket package

The Athletic Department is offering a "Super Seven" basketball ticket package for the seven remaining home dates on the 2000-01 schedule. The ticket package will include the Screaming Eagles' doubleheaders with Northern Kentucky University and Kentucky Wesleyan College.

The packages will be $50 for chairback seats, $40 for bench seats, and $25 for student bench seats. USI students are admitted free. This package may be the only way to get tickets for USI's February 22 doubleheader with Kentucky Wesleyan College. Any remaining tickets for the KWC games at USI will go on sale February 1.

Seats are still available for the NKU doubleheader on Saturday, January 6. If USI defeats the University of Indianapolis and NKU defeats Southern Illinois University Edwardsville on January 4, the Saturday doubleheader will feature the only two NCAA Division II programs with undefeated men's and women's teams.

The USI Ticket Office is open Monday through Friday, 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m.

Names in the news
