Vol. XXVIII, No. 6 - September 29, 1993

Deadline: FRIDAY AFTERNOON

MEDIA CENSORSHIP TO BE PANEL TOPIC

The USI Communications Department will sponsor a panel discussion on media censorship at 6 p.m. Thursday, October 7, in Forum I, with the controversial NYPD Blue television series to be the featured topic.

Dr. Dal Herring, Communication Department chairperson, said a panel of USI professors will discuss internal censorship by the news media such as the decision by WTVW-Channel 7 officials not to air the pilot program in the series. Dr. Herring said they have a copy of the pilot, obtained outside the city, and will show excerpts during the program.

USI THEATRE

USI Theatre's first fall production will be Mr. August Strindberg's classic drama, Miss Julie, which will be presented October 7-17 at the theatre, 3001 Igleheart Avenue.

Miss Julie tells the story of two women who struggle to reshape their identities and break free from 19th century values on sex and social class. It will be directed by Mr. Elliot H. Wasserman, assistant professor of theatre.

Curtain time will be at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, 2 and 7 p.m. Sundays. Tickets are $7 for adults, $5 for students and senior citizens (60+). For ticket information, call extension 1668.

VIDEOCONFERENCING

Mr. Eric Murphy from AT&T is explaining videoconferencing -- what it is, how it works, how it will change the way we work, and its benefits (face-to-face meeting without travel) -- in final sessions at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. Thursday, September 30, in the Varsity Club Room at the PAC. He is using AT&T Telnet. He also will be available to discuss the program Friday, October 1. Call extension 1899 for reservations or information.

Two live satellite broadcasts designed to help viewers increase productivity through technology will be downlinked by the University. The first, "Demonstration and Dialogue: Tapping the Resources of Computer Networking," will be aired from 12 noon to 2 p.m. Thursday, September 30, in

UNIVERSITY UPDATE -- MAIL SERVICE

Mr. Larry J. Feldhaus, Mail and Store-room supervisor, will discuss the USI mail operations at the next University Update sessions. The programs are slated at 2 p.m. Tuesday, October 12, and 9 a.m. Wednesday, October 13, in L100. All University faculty and staff are encouraged to attend one of the sessions.

UC350. It will explore the uses of computer networks and sample the vast array of resources available, such as E-Mail, FTP, Telnet, CWIS, WAIS, Gopher, and more.

The second program, "Maximizing Multi-Media: A How-to Session for Faculty," will air from 2:30 to 4 p.m. Wednesday, October 6, in FA170. It is designed to help faculty learn to use multi-media to better manage time and enhance instruction.

There is no charge for either program, but advance registration is required; call Extended Services, extension 1989. Both sessions will be taped for later check-out by

USI, NEW HARMONY HOST INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

The 20th annual meeting of the Communal Studies Association (CSA) and the Israel-based International Communal Studies Association (ICSA) will be held Thursday through Sunday, October 14-17, in New Harmony.

The conference will open with tours and special exhibits. Dr. Donald E. Pitzer, USI professor of history who also is director of the USI Center for Communal Studies and CSA executive director, will discuss the two communal living experiments at New Harmony during the opening dinner session at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The first plenary session at 8 a.m. Friday will feature a discussion on "The Nature and Message of Current Communities," when

Dr. Yaacov Oved of the University of Tel Aviv and ICSA executive director, will speak. Dr. J. Gordon Melton, CSA president and director of the Institute for the Study of American Religions at the University of California in Santa Barbara, will bring the keynote address, "Communal Studies in a Post-Marxist Age," at Friday's dinner meeting.

Dr. Melton became an expert commentator on modern communal living in the U.S. for national news media during the Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms agency/Branch Davidian stand-off in Waco, Texas. He will participate in a panel discussion Saturday on "The Branch Davidian Tragedy in Historic Communal Perspective." Dr. Michael Barkun of Syracuse University

GREATER EVANSVILLE COLLEGE FAIR

The Greater Evansville College Fair will be held from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, October 10, in the Physical Activities Center. Some 90 colleges and universities are expected to have representatives on hand to discuss their institutions with the 3,000 Tri-State high school students expected. USI Enrollment Services is handling arrangements.

those who cannot attend the conferences. Questions about the videoconferences should be directed to Mr. Wayne Bohm, Computer Center director, extension 1899.

NAMES IN THE NEWS. Dr. Betty L. Hart, associate professor of English, recently returned from Nagoya, Japan, where she conducted a workshop at Kinjo Gakuin University for the first annual Computers and Writing Conference sponsored by the Japan Association of Language Teachers. Her presentation, "Teaching Approaches and Methods for Collaborative Authors in Electronic Environments," will be published in an edition of the conference proceedings.

Mr. Ronald C. Roat, assistant professor of journalism, will be in Fort Wayne, Indiana, Saturday, October 2, when he will sign his second novel, A Still and Icy Silence, and also read from the novel at the annual convention of the Great Lakes Booksellers Association.

Seventeen USI faculty, staff, and students attended the Stratford Shakespeare Festival September 23-26 in Stratford, Ontario. They saw four plays: Shakespeare's Antony and Cleopatra and A Midsummer Night's Dream, Wilde's Importance of Being Earnest, and Moliere's Imaginary Invalid. Making the trip were Chuck Armstrong, Melanie Armstrong, Joyce Assalone, Tracy Bee, Amanda Burch, Sherry Bevins Darrell, Tanya Elliott, Paula Byassee Harmon, Wanda Hibbitts, Robert Jeffers, Charmaine Meyer, Sharon Morrow, Rachel Stewart, Fifi Traylor, Kim Trice, Gina Uloth, and Eric vonFuhrmann.

WELCOME. The University community welcomes three new employees — Mr. Juzar Ahmed, computer maintenance technician;

SPECIAL EXHIBITS, TOUR PLANNED

Three special exhibits will be on display during the 20th annual conference of the Communal Studies Association and International Communal Studies Association October 14-17 in New Harmony, while a tour of Tri-State historic sites will be available after the conference closes.

"Dwellings of the Soul," an exhibit by three Evansville artists, may be seen at the New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art for a month beginning Sunday, October 10. The artists will give informal talks about their work during the opening reception, 1-4 p.m.

"The Indiana Decade, 1814-1824: Industries, Crafts, and Products of the Harmonie Society," an exhibit of items on loan from Old Economy Village, Pennsylvania, also will open October 10 at the Scholle House; it will continue through May 1994.

"The Various Aspects of William Maclure: the Scientist, the Educator, the Social Reformer, and the Philanthropist" will be on display October 5-30 at the Workingmen's Institute during regular hours, 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

The public may join the post-conference tour, arranged for the communal scholars to visit the Lincoln Boyhood National Memorial and St. Meinrad Archabbey in Spencer County, Indiana, on Monday; the Pleasant Hill Shaker Village in Kentucky on Tuesday; and the Padanaram Settlement near Bedford, Indiana, on Wednesday. Call USI Extended Services, extension 1989, for information or reservations.

sity, who became a media commentator on historical communal living during the Waco crisis, will moderate the panel.

Nearly 100 speakers from Australia, Canada, England, Holland, Israel, Japan, Poland, Spain, and the United States will present information on "Culture, Thought, and Living in Community." More than 200 are expected to attend the conference. Discussions will range from the traditional communes of the Shakers, Harmonists, Owenites, and Inspirationists (of Amana, Iowa) to the contemporary settlements of the Kibbutz in Israel, Findhorn in Scotland, and the Hutterite colonies and New Age intentional communities in America.

The conference is dedicated to the memory of Dr. Karl J. R. Arndt (1903-1991), Harmony Society scholar and former professor of German at Clark University in Massachusetts. The 1993 CSA Distinguished Scholar Award will be presented to Dr. Arndt posthumously at the Saturday evening dinner. Dr. Gerhard Friesen, professor of German at Wilfrid Laurier University in Ontario, will be the keynote speaker.

Special USI invitation -- A special invitation is issued to USI students, faculty, and staff to attend session(s) of interest by purchasing a $10 name tag for admission to any daytime session, space permitting. Dinner reservations are $15 each; those attending the Friday and Sunday dinners are invited to after-dinner programs -- international folk dancing Friday and a presentation of Shaker music and dance on Sunday.

Arrangements for dinner sessions should be made at the USI Center for Communal Studies, extension 1727, by October 6. The $10 name tags can be purchased at the Center before the conference begins or during the conference at the registration table in the Great Room, New Harmony Inn.

WALKTOBERFEST

The 1993 Walktoberfest of the American Diabetes Association will get under way at 8 a.m. Sunday, October, at the National Guard Armory in Evansville. Check-in time is 7 a.m. Stay for lunch after walking and join in the competition for a diamond ring from Gem Craft jewelers or a refrigerator from Whirlpool Corporation. For information, call the Walktoberfest hotline, 476-6949.

Mrs. Ellen M. Cathey, custodial worker, and Mr. Kendall C. Grosenick, News and Information Services photographer.

Mr. Ahmed has a B.S. in applied mathematics/business administration from Oakland City College, and an M.B.A. from USI. Mrs. Cathey formerly was a custodial worker at Murray State University. Mr. Grosenick is a 1993 USI communications/political science graduate; he has been editor of The Shield, a reporter/photographer with The Posey County News, and a USI News and Information student worker.

CONGRATULATIONS to Mrs. Barbara T. Brothers, Services coordinator, on the birth September 23 of a grandson, Isaac Stephen Tekoppel. He is the fourth child of Tom and Jennie Brothers Tekoppel of near Evansville.

"THANK YOU to each and every one" from Mrs. Cynderella McDowell Miller, who was guest of honor September 15 at a USI Founder's Day breakfast recognizing her family's 150 years on land which now is the site of USI and Solarbron Pointe. Mrs. Miller's ancestors settled the land; she continued to live on part of it until the early 1990s, when she moved to a home in Evansville.

USI FOUNDATION SUPPORT UP

The USI Foundation has increased its 1993-94 support for faculty development and faculty research by 20 percent. Both programs are administered by Dr. Robert L. Reid, vice president for Academic Affairs. Assistance for faculty attending professional and academic meetings will increase from $21,000 to $24,000. Support for faculty research, which is awarded by the Faculty Senate, will raise from $15,000 to $18,000.

A change also was approved for dissemination of the $5,000 the USI Foundation commits annually to the Community of Scholars program. Beginning with the 1993-94 program, each school began accruing $1,000 to be administered by the deans of the separate schools. The accrual will make increased funding available to these programs in the future.

FALL SUPER SATURDAY. The fall Super Saturday for Kids program of exploring the world of physical science will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, October 2, in Forum II. "Land, Water, and Sea" is the theme. Age-group activities will include hands-on projects such as earthquake detectors, forming crystals, and mock-hovercraft experiments. Classes are available for 4-year-olds through sixth grade; the $30 registration fee includes lunch. Call Extended Services, extension 1989, for information.

GHOST TALES. Ghostly visitors and bizarre occurrences will greet the audience of the fourth annual Ghostwalk storytelling concert at 8 p.m. Saturday, October 2, at the Double Log Cabin in New Harmony. The 90-minute program will feature Ms. Jeannetta Traylor of Madisonville, Kentucky, an award-winning storyteller, and Mr. Tim Rutherford of New Harmony, folklorist who collects true stories of hauntings and spectral appearances. Tickets are available at the door of The Atheneum/Visitor Center: $4 for adults, $3 for children age 12 and under; bring your own lawn chairs or blankets for seating.

HANDLING UNIVERSITY CASH.

Pursuant to the directive of the University president, the only authorized agent to control, account for, and safeguard cash at USI is the Business Office. Specifically, this office is responsible for collecting fees and other income, making all fee refunds, preparing bank deposits, issuing petty cash disbursements, issuing change funds to authorized units, and assessing student fees.

Under no circumstance is an employee to accept money in the name of the University without properly recording the income with an official University receipt. A receipt will be issued by the Cashier's Office for all cash received except for that received by approved satellite operations. Departments that have been approved to accept money are required to issue receipts and make daily deposits, and are responsible for maintaining their own receipt subsidiary records on forms approved by the controller.

Any loss of funds should be reported immediately to the Cashier's Office and the University Security Office.

Questions relative to cash-control procedures should be addressed to the bursar, extension 1842.

BUSINESS EDUCATION CONFERENCE. "Focus '93: Strategies for Effective Teaching" is the theme for the seventh annual USI Business Education Conference to be held at 8:30 a.m. Friday, October 1, in UC350. It is sponsored by USI and South-Western Publishing Company. Topics to be covered are "Keyboarding Opportunities for Tech Prep" by Mr. Al Roan, South-Western product manager, and "Creating an Effective Learning Cycle" by Mr. Dan Durbin, Excel, Inc., consultant.

DEPRESSION SCREENING DAY. A depression screening program will be held at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, October 7, in the University Conference Center as part of the third annual National Depression Screening Day. The USI session is free and open to students, faculty, staff, and the community. The program is designed to educate people about depression and to bring those suffering from it into the health-care system. There will be a short lecture, a video, a written self-rating scale, and a brief screening interview with a mental health professional. For information contact the Mental Health Association, 426-2640.

RESPIRATORY CARE WEEK. A special program in observance of Respiratory Care Week will be held at 6 p.m. Tuesday, October 5, in the UC Dining Room. The program is open to anyone interested in respiratory care; refreshments will be served.

GRANT OPPORTUNITY. The W. K. Kellogg Foundation announces the availability of Kellogg National Fellowship Program (KNFP) awards to prepare leaders who can function effectively and knowledgeably in dealing with complex problems where narrow expertise is not sufficient. It seeks to involve professional men and women in the earlier years of their careers, who are interested in developing interdisciplinary and cross-cultural perspectives on contemporary human and social problems. KNFP awards will be made to individuals of exceptional merit who have exhibited leadership potential in their community, organization, or profession. The three-year program is open to applicants who are U.S. citizens, agree to participate in ALL required KNFP activities, and received 25 percent release time from employers to carry out a non-degree, self-directed learning plan to expand personal horizons. Fellows must attend seven seminars, one of which is a two-week session in Latin America; the others are one-week programs in scattered U.S. cities. The application deadline is December 15. Contact Dr. Peggy F. Harrel, coordinator of Grants and Sponsored Research, AD104H, extension 7016, for applications or information.
