

For immediate release

October 16, 2002

USI Theatre's annual costume sale

Just in time for Halloween, the University of Southern Indiana Theatre's annual costume sale is set for 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday, October 19 in the lobby of the USI Theatre, 3001 Igleheart Avenue.

Items from past productions will be available, including nursery rhyme outfits, Greek togas, and vintage pieces. Item prices will vary.

This fund-raising event is open to the public and all proceeds will go to the University of Southern Indiana Theatre Department. Facilities will be provided for shoppers to try on the clothes. Call Shan Jensen, assistant professor of theatre, at the costume shop 812/ 421-1846 with questions.

The USI Theatre is located at the Barker Avenue exit on the Lloyd Expressway at 3001 Igleheart Ave. The 2002-2003 season includes Sexual Perversity in Chicago, currently playing; Holiday Cabaret; Tartuffe; and American Dreams. For ticket information call 812/ 465-1668 or visit us on the Web at www.usi.edu/libarts/arts/Theatre/.

Sent to: South Gibson Star-Times; Henderson Gleaner; Mt. Vernon Democrat; Oakland City Journal; Our Times; Photo desk-Courier & Press; Posey County News; Princeton Clarion; Warrick Newspapers; WFIE 14; WIKY; WKDQ; WNIN-FM; WSTO; WTVW; WEHT; WSWI ; Web