WATERGATE HEARINGS

The Government Documents Depository has received 6 books of the projected 15 book series on Watergate. Inquire for these at the Reference Office in the ISUE Library. See Bette Kent, Reference Librarian, or Sue Thayer, Documents Assistant.

ART EXHIBITION

ISUE Assistant Professor of Art Michael D. Elvestrom will have an exhibition January 13 through February 1 at the Rail Gallery, 110 S.E. Fourth Street. The exhibition is entitled "Drawings and Threads" and consists of drawings, collage, and constructions. An opening reception is scheduled on January 13 from 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. The public is invited.

The show will be exhibited until February 1 during regular Rail Gallery hours, 10:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. The Rail Gallery is owned and managed by ISUE art student, Rod Donahue.

MAYOR LLOYD TO ADDRESS CLASS

Russell G. Lloyd, Mayor of Evansville, will be the guest speaker at the opening session of a course on The Economics of Urban Problems. Mayor Lloyd will address the class on January 16 at 7:00 p.m. in Room 28. His subject will be "Opportunities for Local High School and College Talent in the Evansville Community: A Problem in Long Run Planning". Mayor Lloyd's lecture will also be open to all students, faculty, and staff. Once a month, between January and May, prominent community leaders in government and from the private sector will address the class on topics such as housing, education, poverty, crime, urban planning and transportation as they relate to the Evansville Community.

NEW FACES

Laura Rohrbacher has accepted the position of Administrative Secretary in the President's Office. Laura has been a full-time student at ISUE and a secretary at Mead Johnson & Company. Her interests include piano, tennis, softball, and sewing. She and her husband, Jim, reside in Evansville with their son, Todd Jason. Laura is a replacement for the position held by Elaine Wiser. Mrs. Wiser has accepted the position of Admissions Counselor in the Office of Admissions.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

C. ROBERT LAWSON, Dean of Students, has been notified his article, "The Use of Community Helping Agencies by School Counselors in South Mississippi", will be published in the Fall, 1974, issue of The Southern Journal of Educational Research.
