VIETNAM WAR HISTORIAN TO LECTURE. Dr. George C. Herring, a University of Kentucky professor who is a recognized Vietnam War historian, will be the first Sydney Berger Lecturer on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 21 and 22. The Sydney Berger Lecture will become an annual event to encourage public discussion of social and religious issues, established through an anonymous donation honoring the late Evansville attorney as an outstanding citizen and former part-time faculty member at USI. The committee selected Dr. Herring as an appropriate opening lecturer, commemorating the 25th anniversary of the Gulf of Tonkin episode and the escalation of American involvement in the Vietnam War.

Dr. Herring is the author of America's Longest War: The United States and Vietnam, 1950-1975, published in 1985 by Knopf and now in its second edition. Dr. Darrel E. Bigham, USI professor of history who is using the book in his classes, said it is "the most comprehensive study to date of American involvement in the Vietnam War. Dr. Herring has received critical acclaim for its balance." Dr. Herring will deliver a public lecture on "Vietnam, American Foreign Policy, and the Uses of History" at 7:30 p.m. on February 21 in UC350. He will lecture on "Vietnam as History" in a sociology class at 10 a.m. February 22 in Forum I, also open to the public, and will be available to meet with students and faculty during a luncheon meeting at 12 noon in the President's Suite.

Dr. Herring is chairman of UK's Department of History, was the University's 1988 Distinguished Professor, and is 1989 president of the Society for Historians of American Foreign Relations. He has been at the University of Kentucky since 1969 and previously taught at Ohio University. He is a graduate of Roanoke College and the University of Virginia. Dr. Herring's other publications have included Aid to Russia, 1941-1946: Strategy, Diplomacy, the Origins of the Cold War, published in 1973 by Columbia University Press; The Diaries of Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., 1943-1946, published in 1975 by New Viewpoints; The Secret Diplomacy of the Vietnam War: The Negotiating Volumes of the Pentagon Papers, published in 1983 by the University of Texas Press; and The Central America Crisis, published in 1985 by Scholarly Resources. He also has had articles published in the Journal of American History, Political Science Quarterly, Diplomatic History, Virginia Quarterly Review, and Military Affairs. He was editor of Diplomatic History from 1982 to 1986.

EIGHTEEN NAMED TO PLANNING COMMITTEE. A newly named planning committee for the "Indiana and the New Nation: 1776-1876" project of Historic Southern Indiana, Inc., and the University of Southern Indiana will hold its first meeting from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Friday, February 3, in the University Center. The committee will set policy and provide implementation support for the two-year project, which has been funded by a $272,000 grant from the Education Division, National Endowment for the Humanities. Planning committee members will include Dr. Darrel E. Bigham, USI professor of history and director of Historic Southern Indiana, Inc., who obtained the NEH grant and will chair the committee. Other members are Dr. M. Edward Jones, USI associate vice president for Academic Affairs; Mrs. Patricia McReynolds, USI coordinator of Special Projects; Dr. C. Thomas Pickering, dean, USI School of Education; Dr. Glenn L. Kinzie, USI professor of education; Mr. James A. Sanders, director, Historic New Harmony; Mr. David Frederick, southern Indiana coordinator, Historic Landmarks Foundation of Indiana; Mr. Peter Harstad, director, Indiana Historical Society; Ms. Pamela Bennett, director, Indiana Historical Bureau; Ms. Mary Fortney, social studies coordinator, Indiana Department of Education; Ms. Evelyn Sayers, IDE Indiana studies coordinator; Mr. John Patrick, director, Social Studies Development Center, Indiana University; Mr. Norman Hellmers, superintendent, Lincoln Boyhood National Memorial; Mr. Terry Dimattio, superintendent, George Rogers Clark National Historical Park; Mr. Owen Glendening, curator, New Harmony State Historic Site; Mr. Richard J. Borries, social studies coordinator, Evansville-Vanderburgh School Corporation; Mr. William E. Bartelt, teacher, Harrison High School; and Mr. Mark Rice, principal, Farmersville Elementary School.

Thirty teachers from Hoosier schools -- public or private; elementary, middle, or high school -- will be selected to participate. The program will bring nationally prominent scholars and the 30 teachers together for two summer institutes (July 10-28, 1989, and July 9-27, 1990), with a goal of enrichment of the teachers' understanding of this era of American history and improving the ties between the classroom and southern Indiana's many important historic sites. Participants also will attend fall and winter teaching seminars in which they will explore the teaching implications of the summer experiences. Long-term curricular improvement is a project goal, as is the strengthening of teaching, particularly of history, in Indiana. Participating teachers must be able to develop in-service training programs for colleagues in their home school districts. Applications are not limited to social studies teachers. Participants will have all travel and living expenses paid, and will receive a weekly stipend for attending the summer institute and three hours of graduate credit from USI for each institute. Further information and application forms may be obtained from Dr. Darrel Bigham, HSI Project Director, 405 Carpenter Street, Evansville, IN 47708, telephone (812) 428-7592. The application deadline is March 17; participants will be selected by April 15.

NEW HARMONY GALLERY. Ms. Martha Kaplan of Sullivan, Indiana, will exhibit work from her recent "Plainplainplain" series -- canvases splashed with electric primary colors that emulate atmospheric conditions framed in geometric shapes -- February 5-28 at the New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art. There will be a reception for the artist from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, February 5. Ms. Kaplan is a New York City native who has traveled to Europe and Central America, among other places, and works as an auxiliary operator at Hoosier Energy's Merom Power Station near Sullivan. The use of high-charged colors in depicting landscapes that depict exotic as well as familiar places speaks of these influences. Ms. Kaplan's work has been included in exhibitions in Mexico, New York City, and Turkey, as well as numerous shows in the Midwest, the most recent being a retrospective at the Tarble Art Center in Charleston, Illinois.

NAMES IN THE NEWS. Dr. Sherry B. Darrell, associate professor of English, will serve as humanities scholar for a Greek Tragedy Weekend February 17-19 at Kentucky Wesleyan College in Owensboro, funded by the Kentucky Humanities Council. Dr. Darrell will deliver a lecture, "How to Understand and Appreciate Greek Tragedy," at 7 p.m. Friday, February 17. Mini-lectures at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Saturday and 1:30 p.m. Sunday will include the following respective films, "Iphigeneia at Aulis," "Agamemnon," and "Oedipus the King," followed by discussions. All sessions are free and open to the public.

Mr. Larry D. Goss, professor of Engineering Technology, has been appointed by the American Society for Engineering Education as chairman of the U. S. organizing committee for the Fifth International Conference on Engineering Graphics and Descriptive Geometry, to be held in August, 1992, in Melbourne, Australia. His duties will include acting as liaison for the western hemisphere with the Royal Melbourne Institute of Technology, the host institution, and serving as chairman of the selection jury for papers to be presented at the conference, submitted by authors living in the New World.

Dr. Wanda B. Hibbitts, professor emerita of business, and Ms. Bonnie J. Shubiak, associate professor of accounting at Madisonville Community College, are the authors of a "Study Guide for Principles of Accounting," recently published by American Artist Publishing Company.

GOSPEL PROGRAM. The Black Student Union will sponsor a program of gospel music from 5 to 8 p.m. Sunday, February 12, in Forum I. The Harrison High School and Vincennes University Gospel Choirs will participate, with the possibility that the Indiana State University Gospel Choir also will sing.

TELECONFERENCE BEING TAPED. A teleconference on "Myths, Models, and Realities: Creating a Campus of the Future," originating from Ball State University, will be aired on Tuesday, February 7. Because the only available site is the Media Services viewing room, which accommodates four people, the program will be taped and made available to those interested at their convenience. Please call Mrs. Rebecca Englert, coordinator of Business and Professional Programs, extension 1863, to reserve the tape.

SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL. A University group will attend the Alabama Shakespeare Festival March 24-26 in Montgomery. Four plays -- "Les Liaisons Dangereuses," "Candida," "Much Ado About Nothing," and "Romeo and Juliet" -- will be featured. The trip via University van will include two nights at the Ramada Inn and will cost $74 to $98 for students, $98 to $121 for faculty, depending on the number staying per room. The deadline for making full payment is Monday, March 6. Contact Mrs. Roberta Schweizer, senior secretary in English and Foreign Languages Department, SC255.

ROTARY SCHOLARSHIPS. The deadline is March 25 to submit applications for the 1990-91 Rotary Foundation Scholarships, designed to further international understanding and friendly relations among people of different countries. Five types of scholarships will be awarded, allowing recipients to complete a year of study or training in another country where Rotary clubs are located. Recipients are expected to be ambassadors of good will during their stay and to share their experiences when they return home. Application must be made through the local Rotary Club. USI applicants may contact Dr. Darrell E. Bigham, professor of history, for details and application forms.

COMMUNITY FORUM. Leadership Evansville and the Evansville Bar Association are sponsoring "Choices in a Changing Society: A Community Forum" to provide an opportunity for public discussion of issues affecting our daily lives. The programs will be held at 4:30 p.m. at Channel 9, 405 Carpenter Street. The first -- "Gun Control: Tyranny or Protection?" -- will be Thursday, February 2. "Coming of Age: Teen Privilege vs Teen Right" will be discussed February 9; "Privacy: Individual Rights vs Public Concerns," February 16; and "Human Genetic Engineering: Therapy or Heresy?" February 23. All interested persons are invited to participate.

ALUMNI TELEFUND. The USI Alumni Association's 16th annual Telefund will be kicked off Wednesday, February 1, and they need your help! Traditionally, students, alumni, faculty, and staff work side-by-side, calling 6,000 alumni to ask for their financial commitment in support of the USI Alumni Association. This year's Telefund will be in operation from 5 to 9 p.m. February 1-2, 6-7-8-9, and 13-14-15, and from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, February 4, in the new broadcast studios at WNIN-Channel 9 in the historic Carpenter House, 405 Carpenter Street. Faculty and staff are asked to make a commitment to work one four-hour session. "We love our volunteers, so we're planning some fun, food, and door prizes," says Alumni Affairs Director Nancy Johnson. Call Mrs. Johnson or Mrs. Lori Higgins, intermediate secretary in Alumni Affairs, to sign up -- extension 1924.

CONTINUING EDUCATION REMINDER. The Faculty Senate would like to remind faculty and staff members that Continuing Education courses are free if they enhance your present position. Approval is required from your immediate supervisor. Call extension 1863 to have a fee waiver sent to you.

COMMODITIES COURSE. The Office of Continuing Education will sponsor a five-week noncredit course on "Introduction to Commodities," which will be taught by Mr. Bill Denham, commodities broker. The course is designed to familiarize beginners with fundamental principles in daily commodity futures trading. Farmers can receive special assistance in learning to hedge and market grains for greater profits. The class starts Tuesday, February 21; contact the Office of Continuing Education, extension 1863.

FACULTY CLUB DANCE. Faculty Club members and guests are invited to a FUN evening of dancing on Friday, February 10, at the Day's Inn, 5701 U.S. 41 North. Music from the '50s to '70s, with a disk jockey, begins at 9 p.m. It is recommended that you arrive 15 minutes early if you wish to sit as a group, since the dance is open to the public. No reservations; no cover; no minimum . . . See you there . . . Oscar Ozete.

DON'T FORGET. USI can collect valuable receipts from Schnuck's. If you or your family shop there, save your receipts and turn them in at the cashier's window. With receipts now totaling $12,405.79 we've a long way to go to reach $150,000 by April and get into the competition to win a computer or software.

RELIGION AND THE UNIVERSITY. The Religion and the University group will continue informal discussions of Harvard Diary: Reflections on the Sacred and the Secular at their meeting at 12 noon Monday, February 6, in UC308. All interested persons are invited to join them.

SPRING FILM SERIES -- "Meet John Doe" (1941, 134 minutes) Director: Frank Capra; cast: Gary Cooper, Barbara Stanwyck, Edward Arnold. A genial tramp is turned into a folk hero by a sinister industrialist as part of a power scheme. The New York Times called this film, "A glowing tribute to the anonymous citizen." The film will be shown at 2 and 6 p.m. Tuesday, February 7, in Forum I; it is free and open to the public.
