Three to receive Economic Education awards at USI

For immediate release
September 8, 1995

Three southern Indiana people will be honored during the presentation of 1995 Awards for Excellence by the Center for Economic Education in the University of Southern Indiana School of Business. The program will be held at 7 p.m. Monday, September 11, in the UC Dining Room at USI.

The Paul Samuelson Enterprise Award for a community leader will be presented to Alan W. Newman, vice president and regional manager of Hilliard Lyons Investment Company, Evansville. The award recognizes his efforts in promoting the Stock Market Game and the Economics America school program.

Ronald Etienne, superintendent of schools for the North Spencer School Corporation, will receive the Lawrence Senesh Award for school administrators, recognizing his efforts in incorporating the Economics America program into North Spencer studies.

The Olin Davis Exemplary Teaching of Economics Award will be presented to Elizabeth Culiver, fifth-grade teacher at Hebron Elementary School. She is being recognized for her incorporation of economics into her curriculum and the development by her students of the book Cornfield to Concrete: A Look at Green River Road.

The program is being coordinated by Dr. Gregory P. Valentine, director of the USI Center for Economic Education. For information, contact Dr. Valentine at 812/465-1610.
