University meeting

The University Meeting for Faculty and Administrative Staff will be held August 24, in Mitchell Auditorium. Registration begins at 8 a.m. and refreshments will be served. The meeting begins at 8:30 a.m. The purpose of this meeting is to inform faculty and administrative staff of campus changes and new policies effective for the fall semester.

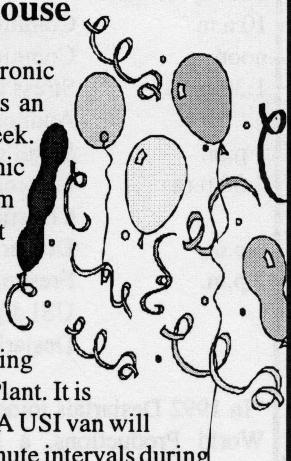

The meeting also will include a presentation by Mr. Michael G. Dolence, a nationally recognized speaker on the subjects of organizational transformation, strategic planning and management processes, information technology, linking budgeting and planning, public advocacy, and public relations. His newest book, Strategic Choices for the Academy, was published in April 1998 by Jossey-Bass. Mr. Dolence developed the first "World Conference and Policy Summit on Virtual Learning Environments" in Denver, Colorado, in August 1997 and has consulted with over 250 clients in the field of higher education. His topic for the meeting is "Dawn of the Age of Learning".

Publishing Services Center Open House

Shake hands with the technology in print and electronic publications as the Publishing Services Center holds an open house for USI employees for two days next week. Tours of the press room, the copy center, the graphic design area, and the photo studio will be available from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday, August 26 and 27.

In June the Printing Services Office and the Office of News and Information Services moved to the Publishing Services Center on Clarke Lane west of the Physical Plant. It is a short walk from the west end of the Science Center. A USI van will shuttle employees to and from the Orr Center at 15-minute intervals during the open house hours.

If you are baffled by graphic design technology, interested in the services available in the copy center, or retreat when copy for newsletters and brochures has to be written, attend the open house to meet staff who want to help you with your printing projects. The staff in Publishing Services welcomes your questions and the opportunity to show their work.

Campus construction update

Renovation of the patio area between Forum annex and the Orr Center is near completion.

Student Housing

Three new apartment buildings - Bowen, Orr, and Bayh - are open in Residence Life for the fall semester. With this addition, Residence Life houses 2,100 students on campus.

Site work is completed and construction begins fall 1998 on one of two buildings in Student Housing that will be located behind the parking lot of the Technology Center. Expected completion date of the first building is fall 1999 and it will house 180 students.

Health Professions Center

The lobby and canteen were converted to classrooms and are available for scheduling. The basement will be renovated into classrooms, labs, offices, and a health clinic. Construction begins fall 1998 and should be completed by spring 1999.

Liberal Arts Center

Construction has reached the third level and framing has started on the middle section. Site work is continuing. Construction is to be completed in fall 1999.

Science Center

Labs and classrooms are undergoing renovation. Some of the renovations began this summer and will be completed before fall semester begins. Other classrooms and labs are undergoing major renovations and will not be completed until fall 1999.
