EVANSVILLE CAMPUS

calendar is published in University Notes and is used for the weekly calendar of events published in the local newspapers.

Your help is needed in keeping abreast of all activities on campus. The monthly calendar will be prepared the last week of the month, thus material to be included in the monthly calendar is needed by Monday of the last week. The President's Office staff needs to be notified of any last minute changes, cancellations, and additions - especially if an event is quickly scheduled and arranged. These additions or changes will be included in the weekly local newspaper calendar and in University Notes.

Material can be typed and mailed to the President's Office by campus mail or material can be phoned to the office. Each month for your convenience, an information form will be attached to the mid-month issue of University Notes.

If you are sponsoring an event and wish to receive publicity, please notify the President's Office as to the type of event, date, time and place of event, and other pertinent information. For a detailed news release, the staff will be happy to work with you to prepare information for distribution to the television stations and local newspapers.

Contact the President's Office, extension 1755 for additional forms or information.

The project is funded in part by the Indiana Arts Commission and International Steel and will enable the artist to construct and install a large metal sculpture on campus in addition to building a smaller indoor work of art. The artist will be provided with materials to construct the sculpture along with the use of space, equipment and the help of professional metal workers at International Steel. The smaller art work will be fabricated on the campus.

As part of the project, the artist will teach a course on campus, conduct workshops, and lecture to local high schools and interested community groups.

Applications for the Sculptor-in-Residence position are being received by Dr. James Blevins, Chairman of the Division of Humanities.
