Kevin Moore has joined the staff at Historic New Harmony as manager of development and public programs. Historic New Harmony is managed by the University of Southern Indiana.

Pamela Doerter has been named to a new position in USI Career Services and Placement, where she will coordinate the internship and cooperative education program.

Moore formerly was director of marketing for Aronoff Center for the Arts in Cincinnati and director of publications for the Atlanta Symphony Orchestra. He received a B.A. in English literature from Furman University in Greenville, South Carolina.

Doerter received an associate degree in X-ray technology from the University of Evansville and a bachelor's in organization management from Oakland City University. She was executive assistant with Operation City Beautiful in Evansville for nine and a half years.
