Evansville attorney Ted C. Zierner, Jr., has been re-elected to his third term as chairman of the USI Foundation Board of Directors for 1994-95. Also re-elected were Bettye B. McCutchan, secretary, and John H. Bolger '80, managing director, Commercial Credit Corporation, treasurer.

Carole D. Rust '77 of Mt. Vernon, former USI trustee and new USI Alumni Association president, succeeded Rita H. Joest '84 as vice chair for alumni affairs. Two other vice chairs were re-elected: development -- Jerry N. Crawford, chairman of the board and chief executive office, INB Banking Company-Southwest; planning -- Robert E. Griffin, president and CEO of Escalade, Inc.

The new directors include USI President H. Ray Hoops, who serves as administrative advisor to the board, and Susan R. Enlow of Newburgh, president, Enlow Foundation; Philip C. Fisher, dean of the USI School of Business; D. Patrick O'Daniel, president and CEO of D Patrick, Inc.; Robert C. Roeder '71, a principal and senior compensation/human resources management consultant with William M. Mercer, Inc., Indianapolis; Ronald D. Romain '73, president, United Leasing and Romain Automotive Group; Marlene V. Shaw, USI professor of biology; and Eric Williams '89, public information officer with the Vanderburgh County Sheriff's Department and president-elect of the USI Alumni Association.
