

Pitzer's brown bag lunch to reflect on University's early years

12/2/2015 | John Farless

Dr. Donald E. Pitzer, founder and director emeritus of the University of Southern Indiana's Center for Communal Studies and professor emeritus of history will give the last of a "brown bag" lunch series from noon to 1 p.m. Friday, December 4 at the Evansville Museum of Arts, History & Science.

The presentation is part of the University's celebration of its 50th anniversary. Pitzer recently found his 1967 diary and will share entries from his early years at USI, when it was housed in the Centennial School building.

Participants are encouraged to bring a lunch and listen to the presentation as well as tour the Museum's current exhibit on "The Founding of the University of Southern Indiana: An Unparalleled Vision 1965-2015."
