USI SCHEDULE

WEEK OF MARCH 15

Monday-Tuesday, March 16-17

Community of Scholars - Academic Affairs is sponsoring the visit of Willie Ruff, Lincoln High School graduate who now is professor of music at Yale University and plays French horn and bass in the longest surviving jazz duo in America. Ruff will speak and perform at 7 p.m. Tuesday in St. Mary's Church in downtown Evansville (609 Cherry Street), during a meeting of a USI class on "Cathedrals" of Europe. The public is invited to attend; there is no admission. On Monday evening (6:30-7 p.m.), he will drop in on the Middle School Honors Band, which will be rehearsing at Garrison High School for an appearance the following week in the Hoosier Capitol; on Tuesday, Ruff also will visit Lincoln School and USI's Gateway Center.

(For information, contact Dr. Robert L. Reid, vice president for Academic Affairs, 812/465-1617, and Augustine J. Fredrich, chair of the Engineering Technology Department and instructor of the "Cathedrals" class, 464-1877.)

Tuesday, March 17

Spring film series - City of Women (1979, 1981; Italian) Director: Federico Fellini; cast: Marcello Mastroianni. After Mastroianni falls asleep on a train, he dreams he has stumbled into an all-female society; Fellini's fantasy filmmaking takes over from there.

(The film -- 138 minutes long -- will be shown at 6 p.m. only in Forum I; it is free and open to the public. For information, call 812/464-1735.)

Thursday, March 19

Community of Scholars - The School of Science and Engineering Technology will sponsor the visit of Dr. Raymond C. Turner, professor of physics at Clemson University. He will present his "Physics of Toys" demonstrations that have entertained and enlightened students and adults around the country. The program is part of USI's continuing effort to demonstrate to young students that science is fun. The demonstrations -- at 4 p.m. for middle and high school teachers and students and 7 p.m. for parents and children -- will be presented in Forum I; all are open to the public, free of charge.

(For information, contact Dr. Marie G. Hankins, chair of the Physical Sciences Department, 812/464-1716.)

Friday, March 20

Southern Hospitality Day - The second spring Southern Hospitality Day will begin at 9 a.m. in the University Center, with Tri-State high school students and their parents invited to visit the campus and get acquainted with USI. No reservations are required.

(For information, call the USI Admissions Office, 812/464-1765.)

Friday, March 20

Liberal Arts Forum - Dr. Donald S. Wolfe, associate professor of German, will discuss his journey through Germany in the aftermath of reunification during his 1990-91 sabbatical from USI. His topic, "German Reunification: The Wall Within," will deal with the causes of an "inner wall" -- a psychological and emotional barrier that still separates a people who were divided for more than 40 years -- and its effect on a Germany reunited when the Berlin Wall fell in November 1989. Dr. Wolfe's paper on the trip is based on interviews with prominent figures in politics, industry, and finance. The Liberal Arts Forum will be held at 11 a.m. in Forum III. The public is invited.

(For information, contact Kathryn Waters, chair of the Art Department and the Liberal Arts Forum, 812/464-1933.)

WEEK OF MARCH 22

Sunday, March 22

New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art - S. Clay Furches of New Harmony and his former professor, Dale Leys of Murray, Kentucky, will exhibit their works, opening with a reception for the artists from 1 to 4 p.m. Both artists use the conflict between man-made and natural objects to comment on the complexities of human existence. The exhibition will continue through April 22.

(For information, contact Connie Weinzapfel, Gallery director, 812/682-3156.)

Monday-Friday, March 23-27

Honors Week - The annual honors program will be held at 4 p.m. daily in Forum I, followed by a reception for the honorees in the Orr Center lobby. The School of Science and Engineering Technology will lead the series off on Monday, followed by the School of Business and the University Division, Tuesday; School of Liberal Arts, Wednesday; School of Education and Human Services, Thursday; and School of Nursing and Health Professions, Friday.

(For information, contact University Relations, 812/464-1755.)

Tuesday, March 24

Spring film series - No film will be shown.

Thursday-Friday, March 26-27

1992 Enlow Distinguished Scholar - Anthony Jones, president of the School of the Art Institute of Chicago, will speak at 7 p.m. in Forum I on "Stars and Bras: A Report From the Trenches," a discussion of the 1989 censorship battle over a student art show exhibit involving the American flag. On Friday, Jones will tour USI art facilities, meet with art students, and speak at 12 noon in Forum II on "Charles Rennie Mackintosh: In Pursuit of Perfection."

(For information, contact Connie Weinzapfel, director of the New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art, 812/682-3156.)

Saturday, March 28

Cheerleaders Competition - USI cheerleaders will hold their annual spring competition for Tri-State elementary, middle, and high school cheerleaders. The event begins at 8 a.m. in the Physical Activities Center.

1992 Eagle Gran Prix time trials - USI students will compete for slots in the Activities Programming Board's 1992 Eagle Gran Prix, slated Saturday, April 11, on the USI boulevard.

(For information on either of these events, contact Student Life, 812/464-1862.)

WEEK OF MARCH 29

Monday, March 30

Newman Lecturer - The Rev. Jerome Kodell, OSB, abbot of New Subiaco Abbey in Subiaco, Arkansas, will be Campus Ministry's 1992 Newman Lecturer. He will speak at 7 p.m. in Forum III on "The Brat Who Made Good - Jacob's Story and Ours (Genesis 25-50)." Abbot Kodell is a native Arkansan who spent several years in Bible study in Rome in the late 1960s, then was assigned to Little Rock. He developed the Little Rock Bible Study Program, which has grown to be one of the most widely known and respected Catholic Bible study programs in the nation. The Newman Lecture is free and open to the public.

(For information, contact Chris Hoehn, assistant campus minister, 812/464-1871.)

Tuesday, March 31

Spring film series - Doctor Strangelove (1964) Director: Stanley Kubrick; cast: Peter Sellers, George C. Scott, Keenan Wynn, Slim Pickens, Sterling Hayden. This is the landmark black comedy about an "off-balance" general who orders U.S. planes to bomb the Soviet Union. This film classic is a serious, yet perversely humorous, examination of Cold War politics.

(The film will be shown at 1:30 and 6 p.m. in Forum I; it is free and open to the public. For information, call 812/464-1735.)

Friday, April 1

Executive-in-Residence - Margaret (Meg) Henderson Blair, president of research systems corporation in Evansville, will be the spring Executive-in-Residence at USI in a program designed to give students an opportunity for in-depth exploration of business issues with business leaders. Blair co-founded and became president of rsc in 1974 and is now expanding it globally, in response to requests from the company's largest advertisers. She will speak on national and international advertising issues in discussion sessions at 10 and 11 a.m. Her topic at the noon luncheon will be "Total Quality and Global Expansion." All sessions will be held in the University Conference Center. All sessions are open to the public; luncheon reservations are $10 and should be made by calling 812/464-1718.

(For information, contact Nancy Biral, instructor in business, 812/464-1801.)
