INDIANA STATE UNIVERSITY EVANSVILLE
"Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Employer"
UNIVERSITY NOTES. Vol. XII No. 46, June 21, 1978
Editor: Sherri Standley; Assoc. Editor: Debbie Lottes

ISUE SIGNS HOLLINDEN. The ISUE Screaming Eagles have landed John Hollinden who, at 7'6", is the nation's tallest basketball player. Hollinden has accepted an athletic grant to ISUE terminating his ties with Oral Roberts University.

Hollinden starred at Evansville Central and was named to Coach and Athlete magazine's All American team. He averaged 19.5 points per game and averaged 12 rebounds in his senior year.

He will be forced to sit out a year due to the NCAA transfer rule, but it will enable him to undertake an extensive weight-training program to improve his strength and weight. He will be redshirted this season but will have two years of eligibility remaining. According to COACH WAYNE BOULTINGHOUSE, the signing of Hollinden is "the biggest thing that's happened to us. This probably will push our program ahead for 8 to 10 years ... We won't have to contact people for scheduling of games. They will be contacting us."

The signing of Hollinden brings ISUE's recruits to four - including Washington's John Brown, Jasper's Mark Block and Southeastern Illinois' 6'7" transfer John Alexander. BOULTINGHOUSE has one scholarship remaining.

A seven-year employee of ISUE, DOLORES JOCHIM of the Counseling Center can be described as being "people-oriented." A woman of many abilities, she has successfully raised seven children, helped to construct her family's home, managed to have a career and still found time for her many special hobbies.

DOLORES has been employed at ISUE since 1970 when she was part-time secretary for the Division of Science and Math and the Center for Medical Education. In 1974, she became the first secretary to the University Counselor. The only problem was that there was no counselor for several weeks!

As the counselor's secretary/assistant, DOLORES is the student's first contact in the Counseling Center. She explains the services of the center and arranges for testing or further appointments. DOLORES is committed to the philosophy of the Counseling Center, "sharing with people who care," and she and her boss, Bob Harper, make the atmosphere one of understanding, respect, and concern for the students.

Today, DOLORES has only one child at home, Juanita, a dental hygiene student at ISUE. The other six children - Tom, Ron, Jerry, Donna, Cookie, Trisha - are on their own. Their careers reflect the openness and freedom of choice allowed them in the Jochim household. While one daughter chose to become a lawyer, another is happy in her role as housewife. Another child is getting "back to the earth", hand clearing farmland and building a log cabin and windmill.

Until the summer of 1977, DOLORES lived on the west side of Evansville at "The Homestead", 13 acres of ground on Schutte Road. She and her late husband Art, with the help of family and friends, built the ten room house in about a year and a half. Art did all the carpentry work on his days off from his career as a fireman. "I got down on the kitchen floor and tried to hammer nails," explains DOLORES, "but it wasn't long before they put me to work on another project. I usually painted, but Art had to have everything perfect--we even painted underneath the kitchen shelves!" Last summer, DOLORES changed her life style and bought a much smaller home on the east side of Evansville with a yard "that can be cut in about a half-hour."

Definitely an active lady, DOLORES spends most of the summer months traveling, possible because her job is a nine month position. At the present time, she is in Mexico and plans another trip later this summer with her daughter Cookie.

Her passion for antique and "junque" hunting also keep her on the go. Among her favorite treasures are a wooden Swiss music box that plays eight pieces, an ornately carved oak player organ and an original fire box that decorates her front porch. As her newest hobby, DOLORES is busy making "new antiques" at a ceramics class.

Whatever her plans for the future, you may be assured, DOLORES will be on the go.
