ISUE TELECONFERENCE SEMINAR. An exciting new development in communication technology will allow individuals gathered at Indiana State University Evansville and 49 other universities around the country to listen to and interact with four noted experts in productivity, January 28. This new technology, video teleconferencing, involves the transmission of audio and visual images and provides for interaction between receiving and originating sites.

"Facing the Challenge of Productivity in America" is the first video teleconference offered by the National University Teleconference Network (NUTN), an organization of 67 prominent universities interested in telecommunications.

The day-long seminar will be held in Room 194 of the Science Center from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The fee for the teleconference is $95.00 per person which covers all printed materials, including discussion guides, case studies, and a bibliography. Persons needing additional information should contact the ISUE Office of Continuing Education at 464-1863.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR. The editor of The Boston Globe, Thomas Winship, will be on campus February 8 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the University Conference Center, a luncheon will follow. All interested students and faculty are invited to attend the seminar and luncheon.

FROM THE COMPUTER CENTER. Faculty desiring personal copies of any PRIME computer manual should submit a signed requisition with your own account number on it to Pat Nordberg in the Computer Center. An order for manuals is being placed on February 1. All requisitions should be in the Computer Center no later than 4:30 p.m. on January 31. For information on prices and manual numbers please contact Pat Nordberg, extension 1897.

SUMMER JOBS. We realize it's still winter, but now is the time to start thinking about summer employment. The Placement Office is beginning to receive information from all over the country concerning a variety of private and government-related summer jobs. Interested students should come to the Placement Office in University Center 208 or call 464-1865.

HUMANITIES FILM SERIES. "Trouble in Paradise" will be shown at 2:00 and 6:00 p.m. in Forum One of the Administration Building. Admission is free and open to the public.
