SGA MULTICULTURAL WEEK

The Student Government Association will highlight the cultural diversity on campus next week, to emphasize the fact that learning about other people, places, and cultures is part of a comprehensive education. SGA is being assisted by the Activities Programming Board, International Students Club, and Black Student Union.

The international students have created exhibits of artifacts, clothing, books, etc., from their homelands. The exhibits went on display Monday in the USI Library and Orr Center and will remain through November 25.

ServiceMaster will offer a week of international cuisine in the UC Dining Room (see posted menus). Also on the multicultural program are:

NEW HARMONY GALLERY

An exhibition by Ms. Penny Sisto of Floyds Knobs, Indiana, and Mr. Fred diFrenzi of Louisville, will open with a reception for the artists from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, November 17, at the New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art. The exhibition will continue through December 24.

Ms. Sisto, a native of Scotland who has worked among African tribes in Kenya, uses nontraditional methods of quilting to create socio-political narrative themes on the Vietnam War, Nelson Mandela's visit to the U.S., and poverty in the West. Mr. diFrenzi uses ancient techniques and material to create social portraits in cast glass. For information, contact Ms. Connie Weinzapfel, Gallery director, 812/682-3156.

PRIDE COLLEGE FAIR. The annual USI/PRIDE College Fair will get under way at 2 p.m. Saturday, November 23, in the University Conference Center. An education symposium at 4 p.m. will feature Mr. Michael Malone, Dr. Anthony Brooks, Ms. Daphne Smallwood, Mr. Floyd Edwards, Ms. Bernice King, and Ms. India Davis.

Career workshops at 5 p.m. on financial aid, communications and engineering careers, and business ownership will be followed by dinner at 5:30 p.m., when Dr. Melvin Webb, dean of education at Clark Atlanta University, will be the keynote speaker. Students attending the fair will be guests for the Eagles basketball game and the Black Student Union dance that will follow.

For information, contact Ms. Debra Woods, PRIDE College Fair chairman, at Welborn Baptist Hospital.

NAMES IN THE NEWS. Dr. Abbas Foroughi, associate professor of business, attended the 1990-91 ORSA/TIMS joint national meeting held November 3-6 in Anaheim, California. He presented his research paper, "The Development of a Survey to Measure Attitudes Toward Use of Various Types of Computer Support for Negotiation." An abstract of the paper was published in the meeting bulletin.

Ms. Margaret Kauffmann, coordinator of marketing and development at Historic New Harmony, attended the National Tour Association's 1991 annual convention, held October 27-November 1 in Cleveland. The Tour & Travel Exchange was a focal point

LIGHTING A TRADITION

The Student Alumni Association will sponsor the second annual "Lighting a Tradition" ceremony at 4 p.m. Sunday, November 24, when the USI holiday tree will be lighted in the Orr Center Lobby.

Residents of Solarbron Pointe retirement community will attend and SAA invites the entire USI community to join them for a holiday celebration and refreshments. The Mid-America Singers will offer selections from their Madrigal programs.

Admission will be a can of food or other non-perishable food item, which will be donated to the local food bank in the name of USI student organizations. Student groups and individuals are encouraged to make ornaments for the tree. An ornament should not exceed 7" x 7" and should be turned in to Student Life or Alumni Affairs offices by Wednesday, November 20. Call Alumni Affairs, extension 1924, if you have questions.

of the convention, with a computerized scheduling system for the 3,100 delegates that set up approximately 60,000 business appointments between buyers and sellers of travel services. NTA is the premier escorted travel industry association in North America.

Dr. Robert L. Reid, vice president for Academic Affairs, had five speaking engagements this past week, divided between the Farm Security Administration photographs and the "Always a River" projects, both of which have books written by Dr. Reid. He participated November 4 at Eldorado Public Library in a book review on Shantyboat by Mr. Harlan Hubbard, which was used in the "Always a River" series; completed an Indiana public library series November 6 in a program at St. Meinrad Conference Center on his Farm Security photos project; was a panelist for an "Always a River" discussion November 7 at the Midwest Archivist Conference at Indiana University, Bloomington; discussed his Farm Security photos project November 10 at Bethel United Church of Christ, Freelandville; and spoke November 11 at the Friends of Willard Library meeting on the "Always a River" project.

Mr. Ronald C. Roat, assistant professor of journalism, will join mystery writers Mr. Ron Tierney and Mr. Terence Faherty in a reading and book signing from 1 to 4 p.m. Sunday, November 17, at the Borders Book Shop, Indianapolis. Mr. Roat is the author of Close Softly the Doors, released in February, and A Still and Icy Silence, expected to be released in September 1992.

WELCOME. The University community welcomes Mrs. Sandy Farmer, administrative secretary in the Registrar's Office. Mrs. Farmer has a B.S. in accounting and finance from USI and previously worked as a temporary secretary.

FAREWELL RECEPTION. The University community is invited to drop by AD103C at 10 a.m. Wednesday, November 20, to bid farewell to Mrs. Annie Krug, director of Special Events, who is returning to Knoxville, Tennessee, where husband, Mark, has been transferred.

BEST WISHES. The University community extends best wishes for a speedy recovery

THE NEW HARMONY THEATRE

The New Harmony Theatre will offer a special Season '91 finale with the presentation of Ms. Barbara Bates Smith in the one-woman performance of Ivy Rowe, the story of a young woman with the grit and hard-earned wisdom of coal-country Appalachia.

The play will be presented at 8 p.m. Friday, November 22; 2 and 7 p.m. Saturday, November 23; and 2 p.m. Sunday, November 24. Tickets are $10, general admission, with a special $8 price for The New Harmony Theatre season ticket holders.

The New Harmony Theatre is managed by the USI School of Liberal Arts. The USI Society for the Arts and Humanities and Mr. John Streetman, society chairman and a personal friend of Ms. Smith, will host a gala after-theatre supper following Saturday night's performance. Tickets are $50 per person, with proceeds to be used as a benefit for The New Harmony Theatre.

Call the New Harmony box office, 812/682-3115, for theatre reservations. Call the USI Office of Special Events, extension 1654, for information or tickets to the benefit gala.

ery to Mrs. Karen L. Anderson, lead custodial worker at the Physical Activities Center, who was hospitalized last week with acute bronchitis, and to Mrs. Velva R. Kaffenberger, senior secretary in Career Services and Placement, who underwent surgery this week for a pinched nerve. Mrs. Anderson may return to work this week; Mrs. Kaffenberger is expected to return home from the hospital this week.
