Sherman Greer, director of the Evansville Emergency Management Agency, and Wayne Willoughby, EMA staff member and a Perry Township volunteer fireman, will present a disaster preparedness program with emphasis on earthquake emergency procedures at 7 p.m. Monday, November 5, in Forum I at the University of Southern Indiana.

Greer and Willoughby will discuss preparing for an emergency, what to do during and after a disaster, what to expect from emergency services in the community, and study data on what the Evansville area can expect in an earthquake. Handouts will be available.

The program, sponsored by USI Health Services, is designed for the general public, to provide area residents with information for all situations -- at home, at work, or en route.
