Eagle Gran Prix will race through USI campus

The Eagle Gran Prix, a bicycle race open to students and faculty, will be held at University of Southern Indiana October 19.

The race, eight miles for women and ten miles for men, will take place on University Boulevard and through campus parking lots.

The event will include three races: women's teams at 11:30 a.m., men's teams at 12:30 p.m., and coed teams at 1:45 p.m. On October 9, three women's teams and nine men's teams had registered to compete.

"Even though the deadline was last week, any teams who wish to race are encouraged to register," said Sandy Migonis, senior administrative assistant for Recreation, Fitness, and Wellness.

Sodexo Marriott will provide a free lunch for participants and audience.

Anyone interested in participating in the Eagle Gran Prix, should contact Migonis by calling 465-1904.
