2012 USI Coaching Staff

Head
Coach
Mat
Santoro

Mat Santoro, who became the ninth head coach of the USI men's soccer program in 2009, has the Screaming Eagles moving forward in 2012.

The Screaming Eagles battled through numerous injuries to the starting line up and finished strong under Santoro's direction in 2011. USI went 4-2-1 in the final seven matches, after starting the year 1-9-1.

Santoro led USI to a 9-8-0 mark in 2010, marking the first winning season for the Eagles since 2003. USI also made a competitive move in the GLVC, completing the conference schedule with a 6-8-0 record.

The 2009 Eagles were 6-10-1 overall and 5-9-0 in the GLVC during Santoro's first campaign at USI.

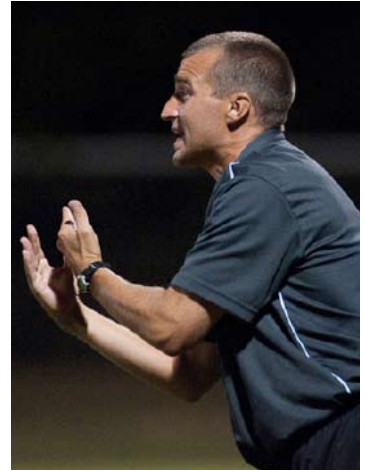

Prior to his tenure at USI, Santoro was an assistant coach at the University of Memphis. He assisted with all facets of the program during his only season with the Tigers.

Santoro started his collegiate head coaching career at Davis and Elkins College. Under his leadership, the Senators set school records for overall wins, conference wins, goals scored, and All-Conference selections during his four seasons. He also directed Davis and Elkins to its first two-winning seasons and produced the programs first All-American.

He made the move to Davis and Elkins after spending four years as the men's assistant coach at Rowan University in New Jersey. While at Rowan, Santoro was the program's primary recruiter and was part of a staff that led the Profs to the Division III Final Four in 2000.

Santoro played collegiately for one season at the University of Maryland before transferring to Rowan. As a player at Rowan, he was named All-Conference three times, All-Region twice, and was a member of the 1990 Division III National Championship team. Santoro played professionally in the United States for four years before entering the coaching ranks.

A native of New Jersey, Santoro resides in Mt. Vernon, Indiana, with his wife, Andrea, and their four children, Timothy, Maria, Andrew, and Giuliana. Santoro's brother, Tim, is an assistant coach for the Wake Forest University women's soccer team.
