Executive director of the Japan-America Society of Indiana to speak at USI

Theresa Kulczak, executive director of the Japan-America Society of Indiana, will speak at a Tri-State World Trade Council luncheon from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Thursday, November 19, in Carter Hall of University of Southern Indiana's University Center.

The Japan-American Society of Indiana (JASI) is a not-for-profit association which serves as a bridge of friendship and cooperation between the peoples of Indiana and Japan. JASI is the only organization that includes a statewide network of both American and Japanese members. The Society in Indiana is considered a leader among the 40 Japan-America Societies nationwide.

JASI sponsors an array of programs dealing with current issues in the Japan-U.S. business, political, and economic relationships. It organizes opportunities for networking, with the society's family events and outings bringing together the people of both countries.
