

THIS WEEK AT USI:

Following are several events coming up in the next week or two here at USI.

Rice Library to show historic newsreels

Reference/archives librarian Jennifer Greene will show historic newsreels from the archives collection on Wednesday, November 11 at 6 p.m. The newsreels will be shown on an original Bell and Howard 16mm projector and include newsreels from World War I and World War II. For more information contact Jennifer Greene at jagreene@usi.edu or 812-464-1832.

Madrigal Feaste tickets on sale for December 3-6 performances

Tickets for the 46th annual USI Madrigal Feaste are now on sale for performances on December 3-6. The oldest tradition at in the university, Madrigal Feaste features the USI Chamber Choir in period costume performing traditional and modern holiday choral selections, as well as a five-course meal prepared by University Dining Services. Tickets are available for order online or over the phone. Read More

USI art majors display work at Senior Seminar Exhibition

Forty-eight senior art majors are displaying their creative work at the 2015 Senior Seminar Exhibition, November 9 to December 2, in the Kenneth P. McCutchan Art Center/Palmina F. and Stephen S. Pace Galleries, located in the lower lever of the Liberal Arts Center, on the USI campus. There will be a reception for the student artists from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, November 15. Light refreshments will be served and the reception is open to the public. The exhibit is open 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday - Friday and 1 to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Read More

Fashion show and reception to kick off International Education Week

The Center for International Studies will host an International Reception and Fashion show on Monday, November 16 at 3:30 p.m. in Carter Hall in University Center. The free event is in honor of USI International faculty and students, including visiting students and guests from Pakistan and Mexico, and will mark the beginning of International Education Week, which runs November 16-20.

John McNaughton featured in fourth installment of USI Master Teacher Series

The Evansville Museum's fourth installment of the USI Master Teacher Series exhibition runs through December 13. The fourth exhibition in the series highlights the work of John McNaughton, professor emeritus of art, and five of his former students. His passion for USI was expressed daily in his 35 year teaching career as he served at various intervals from 1972 to 1994 as chair of the art department; developed original art curriculum; promoted better facilities; and was key in the expansion of the Art Program. Read More