The University of Southern Indiana Art Department and New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art will sponsor New York painter Katharine T. Carter as Visiting Artist in February.

Carter will discuss "Highlights of the New York Art Season" at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, February 7, at The Atheneum in New Harmony. Her slide lecture gives the audience a comprehensive overview of the New York exhibition season.

Students and artists can receive advice on "How To Get Started Professionally To Approaching New York Galleries" in Carter's presentation at 2 p.m. Friday, February 8, in Forum II at USI. She will provide insights on competing effectively, based on her own experiences as an exhibiting artist in New York.

Carter first exhibited at The New Museum in New York, while still completing her graduate degree at the University of South Florida. She later became affiliated with the Hal Bromm Gallery, where she has had two one-person shows. She also has been in numerous group exhibitions in New York and in museums throughout the country. Her work the past three years has been reviewed in The New York Times.
