FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

USI Center For Total Quality
Management announces
summer classes

The USI Center for Total Quality Management will offer nine summer seminars in June and July. The programs will concentrate on developing a total quality organization in the ISO 9000 seminar series, and implementing statistic process control (SPC) for middle management, engineers, and supervisors.

The ISO 9000 seminar series will be offered June 13, 16, 20, and 23 at various times and the SPC programs will be offered July 19-20 and 25 from 8 p.m. to 5 p.m. Information on times, cost, and registration is available from the Center for Total Quality Management at 812/464-1816 or 800/467-8600.

The USI Center for Total Quality Management was founded in 1991 with a grant from the Indiana Department of Commerce Strategic Development Fund and the support of area employers. The Center assists manufacturing and service companies and healthcare providers in creating and sustaining a continuous improvement effort by focusing the entire organization on meeting and exceeding its customers' needs.

For additional information, contact Jerry Benware, director of the USI Center for Total Quality Management at 812/464-1816 or 800/467-8600.
