UNITED WAY CAMPAIGN STARTS. The USI 1987-88 United Way campaign opened Monday, November 2, with a goal of $12,210, a 15 percent increase over last year's outstanding fund drive. The USI United Way Campaign Committee has organized several competitions among the 15 divisions to help boost this campaign. Three "traveling trophies" will be awarded for the first time to: the division with the highest percentage of employees giving, the division with the highest percentage of Fair Share giving, and the division with the highest per capita giving. In addition, any division where all employees make United Way pledges will be awarded a 1987-88 permanent plaque congratulating them on their "100 Percent Commitment to United Way."

Emphasis again is placed on the Fair Share gift, a pledge which represents one half of one percent (.005) of your pre-tax income. Last year, USI employees responded with 41 Fair Share gifts. This year's goal is to increase that total by 50 percent, or 20 additional Fair Share pledges. The campaign committee has created an incentive package called the USI Fair Share Lottery. By pledging your Fair Share, you are eligible to enter the appropriate lottery -- Faculty Fair Share Lottery, $100 travel stipend; Administrative Fair Share Lottery, choice of $100 travel stipend or extra vacation day; or Support Staff Fair Share Lottery, extra vacation day.

Someone who works with you will be serving as your United Way Campaign Division Coordinator and will solicit your pledge personally sometime during the next two weeks. Your coordinator will be prepared to show you how your division measured up against the other USI divisions last year.

HUMANITIES LECTURER. The third lecture in a series presented by the USI General Education Reform Committee will be given from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Thursday, November 12, in SC 254 by Dr. Jean Gillies, professor of art history at Northeastern Illinois University. She has been chairman of the Art Department at Northeastern and now is associate coordinator of the Academic Advisement Program. Dr. Gillies is the author of numerous articles and served as project director for the film, "American Women: Daughters of a Dream," which was funded by the National Endowment for the Arts. She received her B.A. in art from Denison University and her Ph.D. in art history from Northwestern University. Dr. Gillies will be at USI Thursday and Friday, spending much of the time in meetings with faculty and classes, and will visit the Evansville Museum of Arts and Science.

Dr. Gillies' visit marks the final lecture in a series funded by a $20,000 National Endowment for the Humanities grant, approved earlier this year in support of planning and implementation of a two-course sequence in "The Western Tradition." The grant funded three visiting lecturers in the General Education Reform Committee program being implemented by Dr. John Gottcent, professor of English; Mr. Michael Aakhus, assistant professor of art; Dr. Douglas Hubbell, assistant professor of theater; and Dr. Richard Mussard, associate professor of philosophy.

CROSS COUNTRY REGIONAL SATURDAY. USI will be host for the Great Lakes Regional competition in the NCAA Division II Cross Country Championships which will be held Saturday, November 7, at Oak Meadows Golf and Country Club. Nineteen women's and men's teams will participate, the women in a 5,000-meter course at 8:15 a.m. and the men in a 10,000-meter course at 9:30 a.m. Tickets are $1 for students and $2 for adults. Park at the 4-H Center and use the shuttle to Oak Meadow. Any University employees who wish to volunteer to help with the event should call Mrs. Rita Murphy, senior secretary in the Athletic Department, extension 1846. The meet director is Dr. Bill Stegemoller, men's cross country coach and associate professor of mathematics. USI also will be host for the NCAA Division II National Championships, to be held Saturday, November 21, at Oak Meadow.

NATIONALLY KNOWN AIDS EXPERT TO LECTURE AT USI. Dr. Margery Shaw, director of the Health Law Program at the University of Texas, Houston, whose expertise in genetics research, law, and medicine have kept her in the forefront of those defining and dealing with the issues associated with AIDS, will participate in "Biology at the Interface," a Community of Scholars program sponsored by the Division of Science and Mathematics. Dr. Shaw will present public lectures at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 11, and 9:30 a.m. Thursday, November 12, both in Forum I. Her respective topics will be "AIDS: A Moving Target" and "Privacy: A Right Not Found in the Constitution." For information, contact Dr. Marlene Shaw, associate professor of biology and coordinator for Dr. Shaw's visit, extension 1709.

EXECUTIVE-IN-RESIDENCE. Mr. Robert L. Koch II, president and director of George Koch Sons, Inc., will serve as the Executive-In-Residence in the Division of Business fall program, slated Friday, November 20, at the University Center. The program will start with coffee and donuts at 9:30 a.m.; Mr. Koch will lead discussion sessions at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. and will speak at the noon luncheon. All sessions are open to the public; the discussions are free, while lunch will be $5 per person. Reservations should be made by Wednesday, November 18, by calling extension 1718.

NAMES IN THE NEWS. Dr. Walter Jermakowicz, associate professor of business, has been invited to speak on Tuesday, November 10, to the staff of the National Security Council in Washington, D. C. His topic will be "Classification of Economic Systems (Methods of Measurement)."

Dr. Donald E. Pitzer, professor of history and director of the USI Center for Communal Studies, received the Icaria/Corning Award from the Icarian Institute, University of Nebraska at Omaha, during the 14th annual Historic Communal Societies Conference October 15-18 at Bishop Hill, Illinois. The award was presented in recognition of Dr. Pitzer's "untiring efforts to stimulate interest and preserve knowledge about the communitarian movement in America." Dr. Pitzer directed the conference and presided at a session on "The Padanaram Settlement in Indiana; Ideology and the Future."

SYMPATHY. The University community extends its sympathy to Mr. Larry Goss, professor of engineering technology, in the death Thursday, October 29, of his father, Mr. Wesley R. Goss, 84, in Ft. Wayne, Indiana.

Sympathy is extended also to Mrs. Mabel Hawkins, Copy Center operator, in the death of her mother Sunday in Louisville, Kentucky.

CONGRATULATIONS to Mrs. Judy Goen, administrative assistant in the President's Office, and husband, Patrick, on the birth of their third grandchild. Corey Michael Lannert was born Wednesday, October 28, to Dennis and Robin Goen Lannert of Evansville.

COMMUNAL SOCIETIES CONFERENCE. Nearly 200 scholars, preservationists, and communarians representing 28 historic and current communities attended the 14th annual Historic Communal Societies Conference held October 15-18 at the 19th century Swedish community of Bishop Hill, Illinois, sponsored by the USI Center for Communal Studies. There were 45 presentations made by people from 27 universities and 17 states. The best formal papers will be published in Communal Societies, the journal of the National Historic Communal Societies Association. Copies will be available at $5 each in the USI Center, SC 173. The 15th annual conference will be held October 6-8, 1988, at the colonial Moravian communal site at Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Any-one wishing to make a presentation should contact Dr. Donald E. Pitzer, director of the USI Center.

HOSPICE EDUCATION CONFERENCE. "The Spirit of Hospice: Caring for the Terminally Ill" will be the theme for a two-day conference Tuesday and Wednesday, November 10-11, at the University of Evansville Health Science Building. Dr. Carl Osier and Ms. Elizabeth Anne Bailey, MSN, will present four plenary sessions: Philosophy of Hospice, Family Dynamics and Terminal Care, Symptom Management in Hospice Care, and Grief and Bereavement. They are part of the team at Connecticut Hospice, where the program originated in the U.S. 12 years ago. Dr. Charles Petranek, USI professor of sociology who helped organize the local conference, will present a concurrent session, Children and the Grieving Process. Other concurrent sessions will cover Humor, Faith and Dying, Challenges in Caring for the AIDS Patient, The Role of the Hospice Volunteer, Caring for the Caregivers, Palliative Care, and Documentation, Certification, and Reimbursement. The conference is supported by a grant from the Indiana Committee for the Humanities; there is a registration fee. Call the Ohio Valley Hospice office, 422-2596, for information.

ADVISORS PLEASE NOTE: Four sections of WEST 212X: The Western Tradition II, the new Humanities General Education sequence, are listed in a separate category at the beginning of the Humanities Division section of the Spring Semester schedule. The course's prerequisites are English 101 and Communications 101, but students do not have to have completed Western Tradition I before enrolling in this second course, which focuses on the more modern periods in our cultural history. Course description booklets are available now from the Humanities Division, extension 1734, or from Dr. John Gottcent, professor of English, extension 1750.

PRIDE COLLEGE FAIR. The third annual College Fair aimed at enhancing and promoting higher education among minority students within the University area will be held from 2 p.m. to 12 midnight Saturday, November 21, in the University Center. It will be sponsored by the USI Office of Admissions and PRIDE (People Responsible for Improving the Development of Education). Activities will include workshops on Financial Aid, Career Development, and Higher Education; dinner in the U.C. Dining Room with a keynote speaker; and the Eagles basketball game with IU/PU-Indianapolis, followed by a dance, sponsored by the Black Student Union.

SOUTHERN HOSPITALITY DAYS. It's that time of year again . . . time to welcome high school students and their parents to USI! Southern Hospitality Days will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Wednesday and Friday, November 11 and 13, at the University Center. Prospective students will have the opportunity to learn about academic programs, fees and financial aid, and student housing and activities. They also will tour the campus and MASH, meet with academic division chairmen, and sit in on various classes.

CATHOLIC COLLEGE STUDENT NIGHT. The second annual Catholic College Student Night will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, November 11, at the Catholic Center, 400 S. Kentucky Avenue. For reservations, call Campus Ministry, extension 1810 or 1871.
