HUMANITIES FORUM SCHEDULED FOR TODAY. Rev. and Mrs. Philip Hoy, formerly of Ft. Wayne, will present a lecture today at 10:00 a.m. in UC352. Their presentation is entitled "All in a Day's Work".

Rev. Hoy graduated from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville with the Master of Divinity degree. From 1962 to 1972 he was pastor of Union United Church of Christ in Evansville. During that time, he worked as a private counselor and taught part-time in the Humanities Department of Brescia College. He served as executive director of the Metropolitan Evansville Youth Service Bureau, a multi-county agency providing many services to young people, from 1973 to 1975. The Indianapolis native was the pastor of the Faith United Church of Christ from 1975 to 1980. In October of 1981, he was installed as pastor of the St. Matthew's United Church of Christ in Evansville.

Bobbie Hoy, a lay United Church of Christ minister, served as chaplain of the Crossroad Children's Home in Ft. Wayne before the couple moved to Evansville. The two spent a year in Americus, Georgia, where Mrs. Hoy was administrative director of Habitat for Humanity, a Christian organization which finances and builds housing for needy people throughout the world. The organization is informally connected with Koinonia, an inter-racial Christian community near Americus.

The Hoys will discuss the time they spent in Americus working with Habitat during their Humanities Forum lecture. Everyone is invited to attend the lecture.

This year, more than ever, the Museum needs your help to pay for the daily operating expenses of one of Evansville's greatest assets. Start the year out right and do something for your community. The Museum and ISUE cooperate in several projects each year, including art exhibits, special guest lectures, and grant projects. In the coming year, an exhibit on DNA, prepared by Dr. Marlene Shaw, associate professor of life science, will be unveiled at the Museum.

New or renewal memberships can be sent directly to the Museum or to ISUE's fund drive representative, Mary Lue Russler.
