Two join USI business faculty

For immediate release
September 22, 1995

Two new faculty members have been appointed for the fall semester in the University of Southern Indiana School of Business -- Brian L. McGuire, a CPA with a background in information systems and health services administration, has been named an instructor in accounting, and Jill L. Padgett, a USI business graduate, has been named an instructor in business communication.

McGuire received a B.S. in accounting and an M.B.A. from the University of South Alabama in Mobile. A certified public accountant in Alabama, he formerly was executive director of Springhill Health Services, Inc., and administrator/management consultant with Mobile Heart Center. He was an accounting instructor (1991-95) at the University of Central Florida, Orlando, where he is completing work on a Ph.D. He also has a Certified Management Accountant (C.M.A.) certificate from the Institute of Management Accountants.

Formerly of Mt. Vernon, Indiana, Padgett has earned an M.B.A. from Webster University, an M.S. in athletic administration from Eastern Kentucky University, and started work on an Ed.D. in educational leadership at Spalding University. She has held positions as a marketing instructor at Ivy Tech State College and business instructor at Oakland City College.
