Victoria National Tournament to benefit
University of Southern Indiana athletic program

Victoria National Golf Club in Newburgh, one of the country's top 100 new courses, has chosen the University of Southern Indiana as the beneficiary of its 2002 Memorial Endowment Tournament, to be held July 14-15. Proceeds of the tournament will benefit the USI athletic scholarship endowment.

Participation in the 2002 Victoria National Endowment Tournament offers an opportunity to play one of America's finest golf venues. In addition, a portion of the contribution is tax deductible.

Sponsorships are available at several levels. Gold ($10,000) and Silver ($5,000) sponsors will have teams of four players who can play their own ball on Sunday and in a scramble on Monday. Bronze ($3,000) sponsors will have a foursome playing only on Monday. Individual players can sign up at $750 each. Gold, Silver, and Bronze sponsors also will receive signage recognition at the event. All players are invited to the Endowment Gala on Sunday evening (spouses welcome) at the University of Southern Indiana and to the Awards Reception on Monday at Victoria National. Persons interested in participating can call the office of the USI Foundation, 464-1918.

Dr. Ed Brundick, longtime team physician for USI athletics and a member of the Victoria National Club, is chairing the benefit tournament.
