Busy October — APB Family Weekend

The Activities Programming Board has stretched Family Day into Family Weekend for 1995, with the opening reception for students and their families to be held at 6 p.m. Friday, October 13, in the UC Dining Room. A dance will be held at 7:30 p.m. in McDonald West rec room.

Saturday, October 14, will feature trolley tours at 9 a.m.; the presidential reception, 10 a.m. at the University Home; Coach Bruce Pearl and Mid-America Singers, 11 a.m. in Forum I; Family Feud, 1 p.m., Forum I; USI volleyball, 2 p.m., PAC; and bus trips to the Evansville museum and Mesker zoo, 3-7 p.m.

The guests will be invited to end their day at Midnight Madness in the Physical Activities Center, launching 1995-96 USI Screaming Eagles basketball. For information, call Ms. Amanda Barton, APB president, extension 1872, or Mrs. Michelle Tenberge, secretary in Student Life, extension 7037.

UC groundbreaking

Groundbreaking will be held at 4 p.m. Monday, October 9, for the $4.7-million expansion/renovation project at the University Center. Students, faculty, staff, and friends will participate. A reception will follow. The University Center will not be closed during the work, which is expected to take about 12 months. The expansion will nearly double the 52,000-square-foot building, which opened in 1974.

Psychology conference

Three speakers will be featured for the 12th annual Mid-America Conference for Teachers of Psychology

John D. Lippert to be Executive-in-Residence

Mr. John D. Lippert, chairman and chief executive officer of National City Bancshares, Inc., will be the fall Executive-in-Residence for the School of Business. He will speak at 9:05 and 10:35 a.m. Thursday, October 12, in Mitchell Auditorium on the topic "Strategic Planning: No Longer an Option but a Must."

Mr. Lippert will outline why "today's business environment requires a clear and precise roadmap of where the organization is going and how it is going to get there." He will cover what a strategic plan is, how to put a plan together, what it should look like, and the results of implementing a strategic plan in concert with the business plan.

Mr. Lippert is a Michigan native who has been in banking since he worked as a part-time messenger in Saginaw 44 years ago. After serving in the Infantry in Korea, he returned to Second National Bank of Saginaw and worked in several areas, then became a bank examiner with the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

He attended Ferris State University and the University of Michigan and holds the standard certificate from the American Institute of Banking. He held senior positions in several Michigan banks until becoming president and CEO of the Peoples State Bank of East Tawas at the age of 38. Seven years later he was recruited by National City Bank of Evansville, where he rose to chairman and CEO and now is responsible for National City Bancshares, Inc., a one-billion-dollar holding company serving the Tri-State.

Both of the Executive-in-Residence programs are free and open to the public. For information, call Ms. Nancy F. Bizal, coordinator of external relations, extension 1801.

(MACTOP), slated Friday and Saturday, October 13-14, in the University Conference Center.

The USI Psi Chi Chapter will sponsor two pre-conference presentations by Dr. Steve Davis of Emporia State University, Kansas. He will speak on "Student Involvement" and "Cheating" at 10 a.m. and 12 noon Thursday, October 12, in UC350; the latter session is open to the public. Other MACTOP speakers are Dr. Mitch Handelsman of the University of Colorado at Denver, who will discuss "The ethics of teaching: Beyond virtue" at the opening general session at 10:45 a.m. Friday and Dr. Douglas Bernstein of the University of Illinois, who will present the after-dinner talk Friday evening on the topic "Stranger than truth: Student excuses and what to do about them."

The conference is being coordinated by USI Extended Services. For information, contact Dr. Joseph Paladino, professor of psychology and MACTOP founder, extension 1952, or Extended Services, extension 1989.

Quaker Oats speakers

The Quaker Oats Company at Danville, Illinois, will be featured on Tuesday, October 10, in the next "Partners for Success" presentation of the Southern Indiana Labor-Management Education Forum. The program at 9 a.m. in the Conference Center will be presented by Mr. Jim Figg, recording secretary of Local 347, American Federation of Grain Millers (AFGM), and Ms. Kristen Doster, Human Resources supervisor. The entire Local 347 Executive Committee is expected to participate in the program.

Area plants are urged to have labor and management attend the 2 1/2-hour session as a group. Early registration is recommended due to limited seating; the fee is $10 per person. Call extension 1989 for reservations or for information.

September 1995 issue of SACE Bulletin (Saskatchewan Association for Computers in Education).

Dr. Lamb also was keynote speaker for the Missouri Educational Technology Conference October 1-2; her topic was "Multimedia Visions of the New Classroom: Dumping the Dinosaurs." She conducted an all-day workshop, "Building Treehouses for Learning: Thematic Technology Tools for Kids," at the conference and a session on "Spinnin' the Web and Beyond; Expanding your Internet Skills."

Mr. Gary E. May, assistant professor of social work, presented an invited day-long conference on "Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder and the Family: Advanced Clinical Perspectives" September 29 for the Louisiana State University Medical Center in New Orleans.

Mr. May, the inaugural president of the National Alliance of Veterans Family Service Organizations (NAVFSO), was elected to serve an additional one-year term at the group's first annual meeting over the weekend in New Orleans.

Mr. May also is a member of the founding editorial board for Traumatology, an electronic journal which now has a WWW site at <http://WWW/shef.ac.uk/uni/projects/gpp/traumaj.html>, giving USI another presence on the Web.

Mr. Ronald C. Roat, assistant professor of journalism, will be the keynote speaker at the Indiana Library Federation District VII meeting, "Harvest of Good Ideas," October 13 at Ivy Tech State College, Evansville. He will talk about "Censorship in the Information Age: Reaping the Politics of Morality."

Story Line Press will release High Walk, Mr. Roat's latest novel in the Michigan-based Stuart Mallory mystery series, around the first of the year.

Corporal Kelly Williams and Officer Chris Marsh of the USI Security staff successfully completed a 40-hour training course on Campus Protection, conducted at the Indiana Law Enforcement Academy by the Indiana Association of Campus Law Enforcement Administrators.

What's at stake for our campuses, careers, and communities?" is the topic of a national teleconference on Wednesday, October 11, which will be aired between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. in the University Conference Center. The free program is open to the public and is being coordinated on campus by the USI Multicultural Center. It is sponsored nationally by Black Issues in Higher Education, Fairfax, Virginia. The teleconference will attempt to explore issues the sponsors feel are overlooked — the impact on college admissions for students of color and women, job and career prospects, role of white women, campus polarization, and minority faculty recruiting and hiring practices, among others. For information, contact Mrs. Pamela Hopson, center director, or Mrs. Emily Winters-Brown, extension 7188.

Southern Hospitality Day

The first of the fall Southern Hospitality Days is slated Saturday, October 7, in Mitchell Auditorium, to allow Tri-State high school students to become acquainted with USI. Other fall programs will be held Fridays, October 27 and November 10, and Saturdays, November 18 and December 2. The programs begin at 9 a.m. in Mitchell Auditorium. Students and their parents and friends are invited to join the USI Enrollment Services staff for informational sessions on academic programs, financial assistance, campus activities and tours, free lunch, and more. Reservations are required this year. For information, call extension 1765.

Greater Evansville College Fair

The Greater Evansville College Fair for high school students in Vanderburgh, Posey, Gibson, and Warrick counties will begin at 1:15 p.m. Sunday, October 8, in the Physical Activities Center. Representatives of 85 colleges and universities will be available to discuss their schools with some 3,000 students and their parents who are expected to attend the annual college fair. Teachers of Writing Conference, held September 29-30 in Indianapolis. Dr. Peggy F. Harrel, instructor in English, and Dr. Laurence E. Musgrove, assistant professor of English, conducted a workshop on the traditional research project. Dr. Thomas M. Rivers, professor of English, and Mr. Eric L. vonFuhrmann, assistant professor of English, presented papers on the abuses and uses of political rhetoric. Ms. Linda Negro, adjunct instructor in communications, demonstrated the use of computer networks for information research. Several local schoolteachers also presented workshops or papers at the conference: Mrs. Shirley (Walter) Everett, Mr. Paul Swanson, USI graduate, Ms. Cheryl Funkhouser, and Ms. Bette J. Hunt. Ms. Hunt was appointed to the ITW board by the incoming president, Dr. Betty L. Hart, USI associate professor of English who directed and organized this conference. Ms. Sharon M. Morrow, USI instructor in English, also help organize the conference.

Thank you...

from Dr. J. Eliseo Da Rosa of Arlington, Virginia, USI professor emeritus of economics, to the USI community for the expressions of sympathy in the death of his wife Doris C. Da Rosa.

The Learning Edge IV

Dr. Joyce Gulley Hamon, USI assistant professor of education, will be the keynote speaker for The Learning Edge IV conference on innovative approaches to using language and literature in the K-8 classroom. The conference will get under way at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, October 7, in the Wright Administration Building. Two keynote lunches will be held to allow grade-specific concentration. The 17 concurrent sessions will feature use of Indiana historic sites as a springboard for language arts projects. Staff from Historic Southern Indiana and various southern Indiana and state historic sites will participate.

New Harmony Gallery

The New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art will feature the "Womenspeak" exhibit, opening Thursday, October 5, and continuing through November 5. The exhibit involves the work of 25 West Coast textile artists, responding to quotes by famous women. The opening reception will be held at 8 p.m. Friday, October 6. The Gallery is switching to fall/winter hours of 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday, and will be open on Sundays by appointment only or when an opening reception is held for a new exhibit.

Welcome:

The University community welcomes three new employees -- Mr. Charles D. Harrawood, a research support technician; Mr. Scott Knaver, assistant in the New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art; and Mr. Todd E. Tichenor, HVAC operator.

Mr. Harrawood has a B.S. in secondary education general science/biology and previously was a research lab technician with Mead Johnson Nationals.

Mr. Knaver has a B.F.A. from the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh and an M.F.A. in painting from Ohio University, where he was assistant director of Trissolini Gallery and a teaching assistant.

Mr. Tichenor has an associate degree in HVAC from Ivy Tech State College and previously worked as an industrial maintenance mechanic at Lewis Bakery, Vincennes; he was an HVAC operator at USI from May 1989 to November 1991.

Sympathy:

The University community extends sympathy to Dr. Helen R. Sands, professor of communications, in the death October 3 of her father, Mr. Floyd Harris, of Greenfield, Massachusetts.

Best wishes...

to Dr. Charles F. Harrington, director of institutional research, and his wife Kelly, whose daughter Amelia Mary is in neonatal ICU in a St. Louis hospital after surviving birth October 3 with a critical heart problem. A heart transplant is anticipated, but Dr. Harrington said it may be five days before definite information is available. Mrs. Harrington was released from the hospital October 4.

Most of us are too fond of people who agree with us and food that doesn't.

4:30 p.m. Friday, October 13, in OC2020 for all new and returning faculty members. Some have requested a repeat of the August program in order to prepare for pre-registration in November. The session will cover new placement testing procedures and results, advising strategies and responsibilities, and the University Core Curriculum. Those planning to attend are asked to call Ms. Julie A. Floyd, advising coordinator, extension 1606.

Worksite wellness certificate program:

The Office of Continuing Education is offering a new certificate program -- Health Promotions and Worksite Wellness -- designed to initiate efforts to improve health and productivity on the job by helping change lifestyle and behavioral choices. The program involves six three-hour classes and a practicum in which an individual or team will create a project demonstrating proficiency in the health promotion and worksite wellness concept. The projects will have direct application to the participants' worksites. Team participation is encouraged, with reduced tuition rates available when three or more enroll from the same firm. The registration fee is $210 per class or $195 per class is signing up for the entire series; the $195 fee applies also when three or more sign up from the same company. For information, contact Ms. Kuric, extension 1863.

New Harmony exhibit

"Golden Memories," an exhibit highlighting the theatrical careers of Grace and Frances Golden, will be on display through October in Dormitory No. 2 in New Harmony. It features original photographs, playbooks, musical scores, costume accessories, and other memorabilia dating from 1890 to 1952, and was organized by Ms. Patricia Sides, assistant curator of the New Harmony state Historic Site and project historian.

Grace and Frances were the youngest members of a New Harmony-based family who performed as the widely-acclaimed Golden Troupe, touring 13 states from 1872 to 1885. Grace later achieved celebrity status in New York City as an opera singer, while Frances helped organize the Community Players of Evansville (now Civic Theatre, Inc.) following her own national stage career.

The exhibit was made possible through an Indiana Heritage Research Grant supported by the Indiana Historical Society and the Indiana Humanities Council. It is included in the daily tour program operated by Historic New Harmony. Tickets may

Immunizations required:

Effective with the 1995 fall semester, all new students at state-supported universities must comply with the immunization requirements of Indiana Public Law 192. As of September 28, 2,815 students at USI were not in compliance with the immunization requirements. Any non-compliance student will not be allowed to pre-register November 6-17 for 1996 Spring Semester classes.

An immunization clinic will be offered by Welborn Clinic from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday, November 10 in the Health Services Office, UC118. The fees will be: MMR (measles-mumps-rubella), $37; tetanus, $8; and tuberculosis, $9.

University faculty and administrative staff members are asked to remind students in class or at work that they must submit a completed immunization record to Health Services, UC118, by October 31, to ensure eligibility to enroll for the spring semester. Any questions may be directed to Mrs. Lori Mason Powers, secretary in Health Services, extension 1807.

Financial Interest Disclosure Policy:

To comply with the new regulations and ensure that the University is eligible for federal grants, USI has you are unsure about which form to use or need to order the new one, call extension 1982.

Student Fulbright reminder:

Applications are being taken through October 12 for student Fulbright and related grants in more than 100 countries. Applicants must be citizens, in good health, and normally must hold a bachelor's degree on the beginning date of the grant (fall 1996). Students may apply for full grants (covering broad study projects), travel-only grants, or teaching assistantships. The teaching assistantships involve assisting regular classroom English teachers in Belgium, France, Germany, Korea, and Taiwan; students planning to enter the teaching field are strongly encouraged to apply. Grant applications are available through Dr. Suzi Wolfe, associate professor of German, SC167, extension 7026.

Flu shots:

The Visiting Nurse Association (VNA) will offer flu shots for all interested faculty, staff, students, and retirees. The shots will be given from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Tuesday, October 17, in UC118. The cost is $10, payable by cash or check. Register by Tuesday, October 10, so VNA will have an estimate on the vaccine needed.

Tina Kern named Alumni representative on USI Board of Trustees

Mrs. Tina Alcorn Kern, a 1986 University of Southern Indiana graduate, has been appointed the alumni representative on the USI Board of Trustees by Governor Evan Bayh. She has been active with the USI Alumni Association for many years and is a past president of the Alumni Council.

Mrs. Kern has been president of Kern Bros. Office Systems, Inc., the past five years. She previously was with Keller-Crescent Co. for 10 years, holding positions as associate director for new business, supervisor of the information center, and production coordinator. She also was vocal music director at Mater Dei High School and assistant to the USI publications director (1978-80).

Mrs. Kern is a 1971 Mater Dei graduate and attended the University of Evansville (1971-74). She completed work on a management degree at USI in 1986 and has attended M.B.A. classes at both universities.

She is a board member of the Center for Economic Education at USI, a member of the Evansville Diocese Secretariat on Worship, and director of music and a religious education instructor at Resurrection Catholic Church. She is the mother of Christina Ulrich, a 1995 USI English/communications graduate who is well known to USI Theatre audiences.

Mrs. Kern's past involvements have been with Raintree Girl Scout Council, the Danceworks board, WNIN telethon, the Arts Council Arts Festival, USI Foundation Board, and USI Alumni/Development annual telethon.
