

For immediate release
News from the University of Southern Indiana

Boone County resident named Homecoming Queen at University of Southern Indiana

Cassandra R. Bowman of Zionsville, Indiana, was named Homecoming Queen at the University of Southern Indiana during the half-time men's basketball game on February 11, 2006. She represented Delta Zeta sorority.

Bowman is a senior, and she is majoring in psychology. She has been on the University's Honor List every semester and carries a 3.824 grade point average (on a 4.0 scale). Last spring she received the Top Student Leader award from the Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs. She also was named the undergraduate Phenomenal Woman recognized for her contributions to diversity on campus. She served as president of Panhellenic in 2005. She also has been active in community work for Habitat for Humanity, Relay for Life, Salvation Army, and more.

In 2004 she received the Best Big Sis Award and the Top Turtle Award (for highest GPA) from the Delta Zeta chapter at USI.

She is the daughter of George and Deborah Bowman of Zionsville and a graduate of Zionsville Community High School.

Homecoming King is Scott Carr, a junior and Student Government Association president, from Indianapolis, Indiana.

Homecoming events are sponsored by Activities Programming Board.

University of Southern Indiana is a comprehensive public university that serves 10,000 students. It is located on a 300-acre suburban campus in Evansville, Indiana. Undergraduate programs are offered in five academic areas in business, education and human services, liberal arts, nursing and health professions, and science and engineering. Graduate programs are offered in 10 disciplines. More information about USI is available online at www.usi.edu.

Emailed to: news@timesentinel.com at Zionsville Times-Sentinel