Barry J. Hart has been named the Director of Safety and Security at the University of Southern Indiana. An Evansville native, Hart is a graduate of the University of Evansville.

Hart, an Evansville Police Department lieutenant, has been with the Evansville Police Department for twenty-one years. His responsibilities included designing and implementing procedures in the record unit to coincide with a new data entry and communications system utilized by the Evansville Police Department. He also managed procedures to comply with national standards for accreditation in the field of law enforcement.

Active in various law enforcement professional organizations, Hart is past president of the Tri-State Law Enforcement Association and a former board member of the Fraternal Order of Police (FOP).

Commenting on the new position, Hart said, "I am looking forward to working with the students and the whole university community to continue making USI a safe environment."
