Vol. 35, No. 21

June 29, 2001

The hills of southern Indiana will be alive with The Sound of Music Saturday, July 7, when the Rodgers and Hammerstein classic takes the Lincoln Amphitheatre stage.

Based on a true story, the show introduces Maria, a free-spirited postulant poorly suited to the religious life of an Austrian Abbey. Convinced to seek her fortune outside the convent's walls, she becomes governess to widower Captain Georg Von-Trapp's seven mischief-making children.

"Climb Every Mountain," "Do-Re-Mi," "My Favorite Things," and "Edelweiss" are among the many memorable songs featured in the musical.

Ms. Jennifer Hampson will portray Maria in the Lincoln Amphitheatre production under the direction of Mr. Elliot Wasserman, associate professor of theatre.

The Sound of Music

Hampson, who also is appearing as Sally Bush Johnston in the amphitheatre's companion production of Young Abe Lincoln, was last seen on its stage as Marion in the 1999 production of The Music Man. In May she completed the first national tour of Kopit & Yeston's Phantom. She also has performed in The Secret Garden, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to The Forum, Sweeney Todd, and Cat on A Hot Tin Roof.

The Sound of Music will be presented at 7:30 p.m. July 7, 11, 13, 15, 19, 21, 25, 27, 29, August 2, 4, 8, 10, and 11; and 1:30 p.m. July 26. A Kids Day abbreviated show will be at 10 a.m. August 2.

Hampson

Faculty, staff, and student tickets are $12 each. Tickets are available by calling the Lincoln Amphitheatre box office at 800/264-4ABE. Each patron bringing a non-perishable food item to opening night, Saturday, July 7, will receive a $5 discount on admission. Donated food items will benefit food banks in the area.

A topsy-turvy tale of misdirected passion and mistaken identity, Shakespeare's Twelfth Night will open at The New Harmony Theatre Friday, July 6.

Directed by Mr. Scott LaFeber, associate professor of theatre, the action takes place on the island of Illyria in the Napoleonic Middle East. Shipwrecked on the island - home to heat and exotic sensuality - circumstances force the character, Viola, to disguise herself as a man in a masquerade that results in a bizarre love triangle.

Returning to the NHT for a second season, Ms. Christianne Tisdale will portray the heroine, Viola. She previously played Titania in A Midsummer Night's Dream and Amalia in She Loves Me on the New Harmony stage. Her Broadway credits include Belle in Ms. Christianne Tisdale, who appeared in 1997 as Titania in A Midsummer Night's Dream, will return to The New Harmony Theatre stage in Twelfth Night.

Disney's Beauty and the Beast and Leonide in Triumph of Love. She appeared as Caroline Neville in the national tour of Titanic, and her film and television credits include David Letterman, Howie Mandell, Guiding Light, Another World, Devil's Advocate, and the title role in the award-winning A Tale of Cinderella.

Performances of Twelfth Night, or What You Will will be presented at 8 p.m. July 6, 7, 13, 14, 20, and 21; 7:30 p.m. July 12 and 19; and 2 p.m. July 8, 15, 21, and 22.

Faculty, staff, and student tickets are $15 each. Tickets are available by calling extension 5264 or The New Harmony

Aesop's Funny Fables

Aesop's classic animal characters will be on the loose at Lincoln Amphitheatre when The Little Pigeon Creek Playhouse presents its inaugural production, Aesop's Funny Fables.

Under the direction of Mr. Brian Maschka, production stage manager of the amphitheatre's two main-stage shows, 19 performers from Young Abe Lincoln and The Sound of Music will appear in the Pigeon Creek cast.

Using masks, traditional storytelling techniques, and rhythm instruments, they will bring 12 of the most famous tales - including "The Fox and the Grapes," "The Lion and the Mouse," and "The Tortoise and the Hare" - to a new staging area on the amphitheatre grounds.

Aesop's work is connected to Young Abe Lincoln, the director explained, because it was one of the books available to Lincoln while he was growing up on the Indiana frontier. He mentions the fables in a scene from the musical.

"He's talking to his cousin, Dennis Hanks," Maschka noted. "And he explains the fable of 'The Fox and the Grapes' to him."

Roughly a 60-minute show, Aesop's Funny Fables will be presented at 2 p.m. Saturdays, July 21, 28, August 4, and 11 under a large tent in the picnic area behind the concession stand on the amphitheatre's grounds.

"I'm really excited about it," Maschka said. "It is basically to start a tradition of theatre for young audiences that complements the family-style theatre we do on our main stage. We're looking to both diversify what we're offering the community as well as what we're doing here."

Originally from Minnesota, Maschka has worked in theatre in his home state, California, and New York. This is his third season at Lincoln

Tickets for Aesop's Funny Fables, $1.99, will be available on site at the amphitheatre.

Civil Suite

Civil Suite, previously billed as 2001 Dance Odyssey, will feature 19 Lincoln Amphitheatre dancers in three performances on the main stage.

The 80-minute production will be presented in three acts: "The Leaving," "The Fighting," and "The Coming Home."

"By Cedar Creek," a song commissioned especially for the performance, joins more familiar pieces on the program that includes "We Are Climbing Jacob's Ladder," "Dixie," "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "When Johnny Comes Marching Home Again."

Civil Suite is choreographed by Ms. Barbara Brandt, whose work has been seen on the Lincoln Amphitheatre stage in Big River, Oklahoma!, The Music Man, and several productions of Young Abe Lincoln, including this year's. She also is the dance and fight choreographer for this season's production of The Sound of Music.

Brandt
Brandt recently directed and choreographed Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat and choreographed Damn Yankees in New Jersey. Her work has been featured on New York stages and in regional theatre productions, and she also acts, stage manages, and teaches. An advanced actor combatant with the Society of American Fight Directors, she is recognized in all eight weapons and teaches with Swordplay!, the only year-round stage combat school in New York City.

Performances of Civil Suite will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays, July 24, 31, and August 7. Faculty, staff, and student tickets are $12 each. Tickets are available by calling the Lincoln Amphitheatre box office at 800/264-4ABE.

Sleuth

With more twists and turns than The Labyrinth, Sleuth - The New Harmony Theatre's first mystery thriller - will arrive with a bang Friday, July 27.

The games in Anthony Shaffer's Tony Award-winning play begin as the wily Andrew Wyke informs Milo Tindle that he knows his wife and Tindle are involved. Wyke then outlines a plan that would - ostensibly - benefit all parties concerned. Blackmail, deception, and intrigue ensue.

Under the direction of Mr. Scott LaFeber, associate professor of theatre, Mr. Robertson Carricart (Wyke) and Mr. David Staller (Tindle) will be appearing on the NHT stage for the first time.

Carricart

Carricart has performed in On The Waterfront, Zoya's Apartment, Marriage of Figaro, Design For Living, and Oklahoma! on Broadway. His film and television credits include featured roles on Law and Order, The Cosby Show, Cosby Mysteries, Guiding Light, Another World, As The World Turns, R.P.M., Personals, How To Commit Marriage, The New Kids, 13 Conversations About One Thing, and Seize The Day.

Staller

Staller has acted in three Broadway plays and in a dozen Off-Broadway. His performance in the title role of The Phantom of the Opera was taped for PBS, and he has played doctors on three ABC daytime dramas including All My Children. Staller has appeared on many prime-time programs and headlined as a cabaret performer for three seasons at the Algonquin's legendary Oak Room. His one-man show, Noel & Cole, was a sell-out at Carnegie Hall.

Performances of Sleuth, the last show of the NHT season, will be at 8 p.m. July 27, 28, August 3, 4, 10, and 11; 7:30 p.m. August 2 and 9; and 2 p.m. July 29, August 5, 11, and 12.

Faculty, staff, and student tickets are $15 each. Tickets are available by calling extension 5264 or The New Harmony Theatre box office at 812/682-3115 or toll free, 1/877/648-7469.

In sympathy

The University community extends sympathy to USI archivist emerita Josephine Elliott, whose husband Dr. John B. Elliott, 89, New Harmony, Indiana, died Wednesday, June 6, 2001.

Dr. Elliott taught anthropology at University of Southern Indiana, University of Evansville, and Wabash Valley College. He directed a summer field school in New Harmony for USI from 1973 to 1978 and held a Bachelor of Philosophy Degree from University of Chicago. In 1979, he received an honorary Doctor of Laws Degree from USI.

Dedicated citizens of New Harmony, the Elliotts have been active in Harmonie Associates, the Golden Raintree Association, and the New Harmony Workingmen's Institute.

Expressions of sympathy may take the form of contributions to the New Harmony Workingmen's Institute, the University of Chicago, or the University of Southern Indiana.

Dr. Henri Maurice (left), chair of the Biology Department and associate professor of biology, and Dr. Scott Gordon, associate professor of biology, were recognized by the Carver Community Center at a luncheon hosted by the organization that offers recreational, cultural, educational, and social activities to the Evansville community, especially the city's African-American population.

Maurice and Gordon were honored for their support of the center's programs, which has included assisting with setup of a science lab, development of a tutoring program, and outdoor environmental education efforts. The Biology Department also donated laboratory equipment, textbooks, and other materials to the center.

Web tips

Making tables ADA compliant

Detailed information about making Web-page tables accessible to people with disabilities is available at www.w3.org/TR/WCAG10-HTML-TECHS/#tables.

Tables become problematic when the content of a table relies on a table heading for clarification. In the table below, for example, "Wayne Bohm" is associated with "Name," "Computer Center" is associated with "Department," and "465-1255" is associated with "Telephone number."

USI Directors

Name	Department	Telephone number
Wayne Bohm	Computer Center	465-1255
Ruth Miller	Rice Library	464-1824

Screen reader software used by those with disabilities is not able to make content/heading associations without specific coding linking the header to the appropriate information under it.

The necessary code for the "USI Directors" table used in the example would look like this:

<Table border="1" summary="This table charts the names of directors, their departments, and their telephone numbers.">

<Caption>USI Directors</caption>
<tr>
<th id="header1">Name</th>
<th id=header2">Department</th>
<th id=header3">Telephone number</th>
<tr>
<td headers="header1">Wayne Bohm</td>
<td headers="header2">Computer Center</td>
<td headers="header3">465-1255</td>
<tr>
<td headers="header1">Ruth Miller</td>
<td headers="header2">Rice Library</td>
<td headers="header3">464-1824</td>
</table>

With the appropriate coding, a speech synthesizer might render the table as follows:

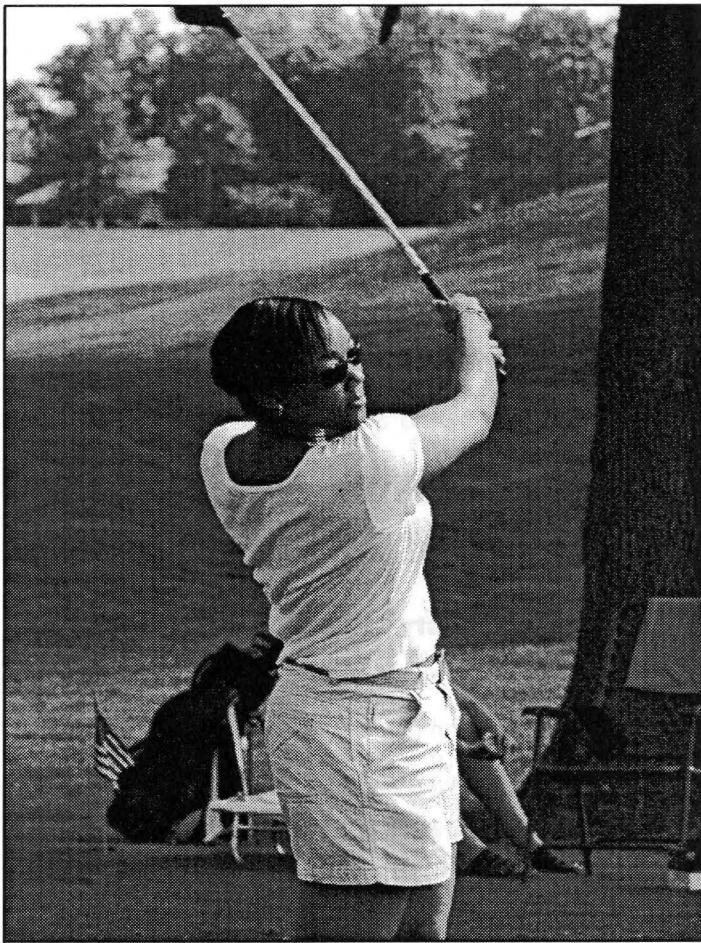

"Caption: USI directors.

"Summary: This table charts the names of directors, their departments, and their telephone numbers.

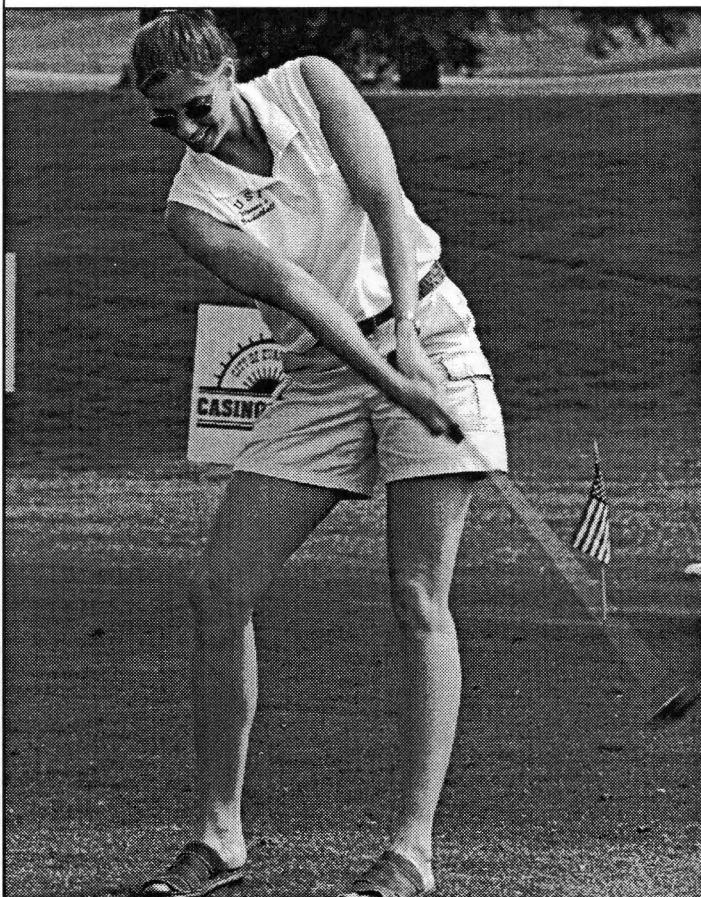

"Name: Wayne Bohm, Department: Computer Center, Telephone number: 465-1255.

"Name: Ruth Miller, Department: Rice Library, Telephone number: 464-1824."

For more information about ADA compliance, visit the Web Services Web site at www.usi.edu/webservices/wcag.asp.
