DISTINGUISHED PROFESSOR LECTURE TODAY. Dr. Donald E. Pitzer, professor of history, will deliver the Distinguished Professor Lecture at 3 p.m. today in Forum One of the Administration Building. All members of the University community and the public are invited to attend.

ISUE ARTISTS WIN IN MID-STATES EXHIBIT. ISUE Professor of Art John W. McNaughton and a student and former student — Don Ledbetter of Evansville and Kevin Irvin of Ft. Branch — won three of four purchase awards announced Saturday night for the 1985 Mid-States Craft Exhibition. McNaughton won the $500 Jeanne Bowman Ellenstein Purchase Award with his wood piece, "It's Greek to Me;" Ledbetter won the $500 George S. Olive & Co. Purchase Award with his formica table titled "Random Scrap," and Irvin won the $500 Rossanna McGinnis Enlow Memorial Purchase Award with his wood and glass work, "Grandma's Roses."

The 25th annual Mid-States Exhibit opened Saturday night and will be on display in the Main Gallery at the Evansville Museum of Arts and Sciences through March 31.

HONOR SYMPOSIUM ON CREATIVITY HELD AT ISUE. Nearly 40 ISUE students participated in the first Honor Student Symposium held last Saturday, February 23 in the University Center. The symposium was designed to acknowledge the students' academic achievements and to stimulate them to greater accomplishments in the future. The students selected for participation in the symposium were nominated by faculty members who were impressed with the students' abilities and achievements. During the all-day program, the topic of creativity was explored from the perspectives of faculty members on the program. Dr. Howard E. Dunn, professor of chemistry, discussed "Creative Thought and Invention;" Mr. John W. McNaughton, professor of art, spoke on "The Artist's Mind;" Dr. Donald E. Pitzer, professor of history, chose the topic, "Creativity and Utopia," and Dr. Joseph J. Palladino, assistant professor of psychology, discussed "Creativity: Measurement and Personality Correlates." The symposium was designed and implemented by the faculty on the program, working with the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. It was made possible by a grant from the ISUE Foundation. Organizers hope future symposia with a variety of topics can be possible for honor students.

ISUE TO BE HOST FOR SPECIAL OLYMPICS. Area 13 Special Olympics and ISUE will sponsor the 1985 Indiana Special Olympics Basketball Sectional Tournament Saturday, March 2, with 23 Southwestern Indiana teams expected to participate in the single-elimination tournament in the University's PAC. Mike Blake, sports director of WFIE-TV, will be master of ceremonies for the opening ceremony at 8:45 a.m. Special guests will be ISUE President Dr. David L. Rice, the Evansville Thunder basketball team, and Thunder Man. Special Olympics teams will compete at 9, 10:15 and 11:30 a.m. and 12:45 p.m. on the three separate courts.

HUMANITIES FORUM TODAY. Evans Woollen, founder and primary designer for the firm of Woollen, Molzan and Partners of Indianapolis, will be featured in a Humanities Forum program, "Toward an Architecture of Process," at 2 p.m. today (February 27) in Forum Two. Woollen earned both his Bachelor of Arts and Master of Architecture from Yale University. After three years of apprenticeship with Philip Johnson & Landis Gores, he returned to his hometown of Indianapolis and established his own firm. Through his efforts the firm has received 10 design awards from the American Institute of Architects/Indiana Society of Architects and other major awards. Regional award-winning projects include: Indiana University Musical Arts Center, the New Harmony Inn and communal living quarters for St. Meinrad Abbey. Currently, Mr. Woollen serves as architect for the addition to the Evansville Museum of Arts and Sciences. He will explore the application to contemporary architecture of four interrelated themes of process philosophy, which deals with an evolutionary world view and the temporal flow of experience, using fine art works and examples of his own designs as illustration.

ISUE PROFESSOR PASSES CPA EXAM. Special congratulations to Mr. James E. Garvin, assistant professor of business, who passed the November examination for Certified Public Accountant.

NAMES IN THE NEWS. Dr. George Abshier, professor of business, has been elected to a three-year term on the board of directors for the Boys Club of Evansville.

Dr. Robert Reid, vice president for academic affairs, will address the North Side Kiwanis Club on "The Report of the Board of Incorporators and the View Toward Autonomy" at the club's noon meeting March 5 at Hadi Shrine.

Sherrianne Standley, assistant to the president, has been elected to the board of directors for Operation City Beautiful. She is serving as chairman of the schools committee for OCB this year.

An article by Sandra P. Barber, coordinator of the Data Processing Program at Henderson Community College, Charles T. Barber, ISUE professor of political science, and Sandra M. Singer, ISUE associate professor of psychology, was published recently in Proceedings of the 1984 ISSUE Conference — Chicago, Illinois, 15-18 July 1984, edited by Richard L. Cook, pages 85-94. ISSUE stands for the International SPSS Software Users Exchange. The article, "Predicting Presidential Elections on College Campuses," evaluated data generated by original simulations conducted in Kentucky and Indiana.

DISCUSSION GROUP TO HEAR WAITMAN. Dr. Michael Waitman, assistant professor of English, will lead a discussion on "A Christian Conscience in a Hungry World" at the March 4 meeting of the Faculty/Staff Christian Discussion Group. He will continue the discussion at the March 18 meeting. The group meets at noon in UC 309; the March 11 meeting will not be held because of Spring Recess.

SGA ELECTIONS SLATED IN MARCH. The SGA elections will be held the last week in March, with applications for positions now available at the Information Desk in the University Center. Applications must be turned in to the Student Activities Office by March 18.

SECRETARIES COLLECTING FOR WHITE ELEPHANT SALE. The ISUE Secretaries will hold their annual White Elephant Sale from 11:45 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. Tuesday, April 16, and will be collecting donated items for the sale in the interim. All items will be stored in the Purchasing Office, and may be left with Debbie Wiegand in Purchasing, Ruth Clevenger in the Library, Carol Stokes in Allied Health, or Julia Yancey in Payroll. All items will be auctioned to the highest bidder, with the proceeds going to the Secretaries of ISUE operating funds. There also will be home-baked goodies to bid on at the April sale. Everyone is invited to attend.

ASME CONTEST COMMEMORATES ENGINEER WEEK. The second annual Balloon Powered Vehicle Contest was held on February 19 in commemoration of Engineer's Week 1985. Two mechanical engineering technology seniors exhibited vehicles powered by inflated balloons. John Esarey, 1984 runner-up, took top honors with speeds of 15 feet per second on a 40-foot flat track. The competition was sponsored by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers Student Chapter of ISUE.

ALUMNI TELEFUND DATES LISTED. The ISUE Alumni Association's Annual Telefund is scheduled for March 11-14 and 18-21. Alumni and volunteers will call some 5,000 alumni those evenings to encourage their support for the Alumni Association. The Alumni Board uses these funds to assist many University needs, but the primary focus is scholarships for deserving students. All faculty and staff are encouraged to support the Alumni effort in the telefund campaign. You can help in two ways: contributing to the fund drive, and volunteering to be one of the telephone solicitors for one evening. Interested persons should contact Nancy Allen or Wayne Boultinghouse in the Alumni office, extension 1918. Help make the 12th Annual Alumni Telefund the most successful in the University's history.

NEW FACES. Anne Rachel Lambert and Kathleen Suzanne Lindell are the latest additions to the ISUE family, both joining the staff at Historic New Harmony, Inc. as tour guides.

Mrs. Lambert is a 1972 graduate of Harrison High School, Evansville, and a 1984 graduate of the University of Evansville, with a BME. A vocal recitalist, she also is active in theatre and bicycling. She and her husband, Randall R., live at 623 E. Granary in New Harmony. They have one son.

Ms. Lindell is a 1984 graduate of New Harmony High School and is now attending ISUE. She lives on RR 1, New Harmony, and likes traveling, basketball and cheerleading, and is a pledge of Alpha Sigma Alpha. She has previously worked as an HNH tour guide.

NEW TELEPHONE STATIONS ADDED. The following new telephone stations have been installed: Station 1815 to Carol Grannan in Payroll, and Station 1977 to Marge Roberts in the Division of Science and Mathematics.

CREDIT UNION HIGHLIGHTS. It is not too late to save on your 1984 taxes. If you have not filed your 1984 tax return, you can save by getting an IRA. You have until you file or until April 15 to take advantage of this tax break. For more information, call the Credit Union at 8-749-9-234-1021.
