Hoosier high school counselors have been invited to a Southern Hospitality Day on Friday, September 30, at the University of Southern Indiana, to introduce them to Indiana's newest state university.

The day's program will include presentations on student services and academic programs and an academic fair during the morning and an afternoon driving tour of the campus, nearby student housing, and downtown Evansville. The group then will travel to nearby Historic New Harmony, which is under USI management and is the site for numerous University meetings, professional conferences, and the New Harmony Theatre, also operated by the University. There will be a guided tour of New Harmony and a reception.

The counselors also will be guests at the University Home for a southern-style barbecue luncheon, hosted by President and Mrs. David L. Rice. Reservations for the day's program must be made by September 23. Arrangements can be made for those who want to stay overnight in Historic New Harmony. Call the USI Office of Admissions, (812) 464-1765, for information or to register.
