The University of Southern Indiana's first annual Sydney Berger Lecture that would have featured Dr. George C. Herring, University of Kentucky professor who is a recognized historian on the Vietnam War, has been canceled because of a family emergency for Dr. Herring.

The lecture program had been scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday, February 21 and 22, and will be rescheduled during the fall semester, probably in October. The Sydney Berger Lecture, expected to become an annual event to encourage public discussion of social and religious issues, honors the late Evansville attorney as an outstanding citizen and former part-time faculty member at USI.
