Openings still are available in the two-semester Dietary Manager Program, a University of Southern Indiana curriculum designed to provide qualified applicants with the knowledge and skills to function as institutional dietary managers.

The class will meet from 5 to 7 p.m. Tuesdays, starting September 8; there will be periodic Thursday field trips to study food service around the city. Mary Ellen Posthauer, a registered dietician, will be the instructor.

Applicants for the program must have a high school diploma or GED and pass entrance tests; there is a $25 fee to cover the tests in addition to the registration fee of $210 per semester, $390 if both semesters are paid at once.

Call the USI Office of Continuing Education, 812/464-1989 or 800/467-8600, for information or to register.
