Deadline: FRIDAY AFTERNOON

IU Soul Revue returns for second USI performance

The IU Soul Revue, a popular Indiana University arts ensemble, returns for an encore performance on Friday, February 17, at USI as a feature of the University's Black History Month observance.

This free program is sponsored by the USI Multicultural Center with the support of the Indiana Arts Commission.

Up to 45 Revue members may be here for the Indiana University group's second visit to the Evansville area. They will begin performing at 7 p.m. in Forum I of the Wright Administration Building, taking their audience on a journey through the history of blues, soul, and funk music that features vocalists, rappers, dancers, and the Soul Revue Band.

The Revue, directed by Dr. William C. Banfield, is devoted to exploring and preserving the popular music tradition of urban black America. Dr. Banfield has composed "Bloomington Blues," which is included in the Soul Revue repertoire. The Revue is also a two-credit class offered by the Afro-American Arts Institute at IU. The program helps those who plan careers in music to gain practical experience and background in the music industry.

For information on their Evansville visit, contact Mrs. Pamela Hopson, director of the Multicultural Center, extension 7188.

State budget hearing

Indiana House Ways and Means Committee members will hold a "town meeting" in Evansville on Friday, February 17, to seek public comment on the state's two-year $14-billion budget and other issues facing the 1995 General Assembly. Meetings will be held in Fort Wayne, Lafayette, and Terre Haute on February 10, and Evansville, Gary, New Albany, and South Bend on February 17.

The 25-member House committee will divide up for visits to the seven Hoosier communities, with members who stay in the capitol city joining the road group via a videoconference hookup. The Evansville hearing will be from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in UC350 at USI. The public is urged to join local government/school officials who are expected to participate in the two meetings.

Mexico series starts in February:

A spring series of programs on Mexico will get under way in February and March with book discussions at McCollough Library, 5115 Washington Avenue, sponsored by the Evansville-Vanderburgh Public Library. The spring series is funded through the "Crossroads of Culture: Mexico in the 20th Century" international awareness project of the Indiana Humanities Council. Later programs also will involve the Rotary Club, Southern Indiana Labor-Management Education Forum, and Evansville Museum of Arts and Science.

The Sunday discussions -- 2 to 4 p.m. -- at McCollough will deal with five internationally and critically acclaimed books by Mexican authors that show how Mexicans see themselves and how Mexican and American history intersects. Dr. Oscar Ozete, USI professor of Spanish, and Mrs. Monsie Woehler of the Evansville-Vanderburgh School Corporation, will lead the first discussion February 19 on The Under-

USI Theatre to present The Seagull

USI Theatre will open its spring season with The Seagull by Mr. Anton Chekhov, to be presented February 16-26 at the theatre at 3001 Igleheart Avenue.

This classic observes the familial relationships and personal struggles of a younger generation in pursuit of dreams for success and desire for love. Set within the social malaise of the Russian gentry's historical decline, Mr. Chekhov's unique artistry casts an oddly comic light upon a world of petty pretentiousness, a world where love and indifference, passion and despair must coexist like members of an eccentric family, where even the purest impulses must succumb to uncertainty — a world where hearts can only break.

Curtain time will be at 8 p.m. Thursday through Saturday, February 16-17-18 and 23-24-25, and 2 p.m. Sundays, February 19 and 26. Tickets are $5 for the University community and senior citizens (60-plus) and $7 for general admission. Reservations can be made by calling extension 1668 or by stopping by the Theatre Center on campus; the box office will open at 6 p.m. on production days.

dogs. The discussions are free, but registration is requested. Call the library, 428-8223, to register and to obtain copies of the books; only a limited number are available, in both English and Spanish. Public Library Friends, Inc., will provide refreshments at the discussions.

Southern Hospitality Day:

The first spring Southern Hospitality Day allowing Tri-State high school students to become acquainted with the University will

FYI —

A use for your old gold:

Do you have a gold earring or cuff link without a mate or other gold items you no longer want? Here's a way to be involved in inauguration preparations and to recycle your unused gold jewelry items.

The Owen cane is being converted into the University Mace, to be used at all academic ceremonies. There will be ornamental bands around the cane which will be gold plated. Friends and employees are invited to donate items (solid gold of any karat weight) which will be melted down, realloyed, and applied to the bands. You can send items to University Relations by Friday, February 17th.

If you plan to take a tax deduction, the IRS requires that you get an independent appraisal of the value of your item.

Berger Lecture canceled:

The Sydney Berger Lecture which was slated Tuesday, February 21, by Indiana Supreme Court Chief Justice Randall Shephard has been canceled due to an unexpected schedule conflict. There is a possibility Justice Shephard will be rescheduled yet this semester.

Lincoln Amphitheatre auditions:

Local auditions will be held from 1 to 3 p.m. Friday, February 24, in UC350-351, for the 1995 summer outdoor musicals at Lincoln Amphitheatre. All ages are needed for roles in Young Abe Lincoln, with a specific search under way for children aged 10 or 11 to play the young Abe and young Sarah Lincoln. Those who audition are asked to do a maximum two-minute monologue of contemporary pieces (24 bars per song). An accompanist will be available; if taped accompaniment is used, the performer should bring a tape player. For information, call Mr. Elliot Wasserman, director, extension 1614, or the Theatre Center, extension 1668.

start at 9 a.m. Monday, February 20, in the University Conference Center. Students, families, and friends are invited to join the USI Enrollment Services staff for informational sessions on academic programs, financial assistance, campus activities and tours, free lunch, and more. No reservations are required. For information call USI Enrollment Services, extension 1765.

APB lecture:

Ms. Robin Blake, an Indianapolis psychologist and psychic, will speak at 9 p.m. Wednesday, February 15, in the UC Dining Room, sponsored by the Activities Programming Board. The public is invited to attend. Ms. Amy Lantaff, APB president who became acquainted with Ms. Blake while working in Indianapolis last summer, said the psychic helps clients understand past relationships in order to improve future relationships.

Names in the news:

Mr. James P. Brown, men's golf coach and athletic academic advisor, has accepted additional duties of coaching the new women's golf team, which will play a limited spring schedule in 1995. Brown asked women interested in joining the team to contact him at extension 1898.

Mr. Raymond C. Simmons, sports information director, has accepted an invitation to join 45 specialists on the media services staff for the U.S. Olympic Festival, to be held July 21-30 in Denver, Colorado Springs, and Boulder. The USOC event will feature about 3,000 athletes, 1,000 coaches and staff, 37 sports, and about 1,200 media representatives.

Mr. Curtis R. Uebelhor, New Harmony Gallery of Contemporary Art assistant, is among 50 artists and writers whose work is included in "Facing 50," an exhibition which continues through March 7 at Galerie Hertz in Louisville. Artist Meg Higgins invited the 50 to participate on the occasion of her 50th birthday, some using her as a model, others interpreting the concept of aging on their own.

Homecoming King and Queen:

Mr. Rob Kerney, a senior psychology major, and Ms. Amy L. Happe, a junior account-

Valentine's special:

The USI Science and Ecology Club will sell miniature rose plants for Valentine's Day. Each plant comes in a decorated pot with maintenance instructions. Several flower colors are available. The plants will be sold for $6 each from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Monday, February 13, in the Eagle's Nest. One or more plants can be reserved at a special pre-sale price of $5 each by calling extension 1701 by Friday, February 10. Reserved roses must be picked up and paid for between 9 a.m. and 12 noon Monday, February 13, at the greenhouse (SC98). Give someone special a living floral valentine AND help the USI Science and Ecology Club.

Report directory errors:

A correction sheet for the 1994-95 telephone directory will be printed in the next week or two. Please check all listings involving you or your department and call extension 1755 with corrections as soon as possible.

Secretary's bake sale:

The USI Secretary and Associates Club will hold a bake sale from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday, February 14, in the Wright Administration Building corridor. A two-pound box of Lib's candy will be raffled off. Proceeds of the sale go to the club's scholarship fund; for information contact Mrs. Christina F. Jines, Historic Southern Indiana project secretary, extension 7014.

ing major, were elected king and queen for the recent 1995 Homecoming celebration. Mr. Kerney, 28, is president of the Student Government Association but entered the competition as a representative of the Strange Puppy Society, a campus organization for non-Greeks which he founded and serves as president. Ms. Happe, 21, is a Presidential Scholar and represented the Delta Zeta sorority, which she serves as treasurer. Both are members of student honor societies and are active with numerous campus and community organizations providing volunteer services in the area.

Runners up in last week's voting were Mr. Kent Kleiman, a junior political science/business administration major, and Ms. Amy Lantaff, a senior communications (public relations) major. Kleiman represented Lambda Chi Alpha; Lantaff has been president since 1993 of the student Activities Programming Board, sponsor of the Homecoming program, but also represented the Strange Puppy Society in the competition.

Development says "Thanks":

...to all USI faculty and staff who helped through donations and purchases in the Toast to the Arts event on Friday, February 3. Ms. Jean Brubeck, assistant director, reports the auction netted more than $9,000 for the Society of Arts & Humanities.

SIHE establishes McCutchan scholarship:

The Southern Indiana Higher Education, Inc. (SIHE), board of directors has made a gift of $15,000 to the USI Foundation to establish a memorial scholarship honoring the late Mr. Harold O. McCutchan, civic leader and key USI supporter who was instrumental in SIHE's founding in 1966. Mr. McCutchan, 92, died January 1. He had served on the SIHE board for 23 years. He was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree in 1970 for his commitment to the development and growth of USI. He served on the USI Foundation board for 20 years, since 1989 as Director Emeritus. Mr. William M. McCutchan, an officer at Old National Bancorp, succeeded his father on the SIHE board in 1989.

Mr. Chris Melton '72, SIHE president, said the "prestige and support of Harold McCutchan, who in 1966 was chairman of the board of Mead Johnson & Company, was instrumental in the founding and success of the nonprofit SIHE corporation which has supported public higher education in southwestern Indiana since USI's founding." Mr. Melton urged others to contribute to the new scholarship "as a lasting tribute to Mr. McCutchan's essential leadership role in the University's development." Memorial contributions may be made to the USI Foundation for the Harold O. McCutchan Memorial Scholarship.

Ever have the feeling that when you're holding all the cards, everyone else is playing chess?

Library computer service:

Library Services once again has a computer that accesses the holdings of the Evansville public libraries (excluding Willard). This computer is NOT accessible from your office, although if you've been dialing into this catalog directly all along, nothing has changed. Please encourage your students to come over and utilize this resource.

Family albums sought:

Historic New Harmony needs family albums, photographs, scrapbooks, home videos, and photographic equipment to supplement an Indiana Historical Society exhibit, Hoosier Family Album, which will be on display May 3-25. With the help of local residents, Historic New Harmony will add a local component to the state exhibit. Anyone with memorabilia depicting what it's like to be a Posey County Hoosier, which you are willing to part with for a short time, is asked to call 682-4488.

Sacred arts series:

The University community is invited to attend a special musical program on Sunday, February 12, in First Presbyterian Church, 609 SE Second Street. The music of Ralph Vaughan Williams, an early 20th century English composer, will be featured in performances by the Evansville Philharmonic Chorus and Evansville Philharmonic Youth Orchestra, Mr. Robert Moody conducting. There will be free concerts at 3 and 7 p.m. The group will present a third performance at 3 p.m. Sunday, February 19, in the Henderson Community College auditorium, where there will be a $5 admission fee.

Spring film series:

It Happened One Night (1934) Director: Frank Capra; cast: Clark Gable, Claudette Colbert, Walter Connolly. In an enchanting comedy that doesn't age a bit, a newspaper reporter falls in love with a runaway heiress on a rural bus trip. This surprise hit was the first film to win all five major Oscars. The film will be shown at 1:30 and 6 p.m. Tuesday, February 14, in Forum I; it is free and open to the public. For information, call the School of Liberal Arts, extension 1735.)

Intramurals:

The Intramural and Recreation Office will

Sports this week:

The USI men's team (16-2) continues its climb back to the top in the NCAA Division II national rankings, moving up a notch to third place in the February 7 listing. The Lady Eagles, suffering the effects of their two losses on the road, dropped from seventh to 18th place but still hold their strong 16-2 record. The men's team is No. 1 in the Great Lakes Region and GLVC; the women are No. 2 in the GLVC, No. 3 in the region. Congratulations to both teams for their perseverance!
